The Dominion government building to be erected in Edmonton will be a $4,000,000 structure, Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce, announced here Thursday morning.

ACCORDING TO Mr. MacKinnon, considerable work is being done on plans for the building at the present time. He said negotiations for location of the structure are not yet concluded. It will be on the proposed civic centre site, and construction will begin as soon as feasible.

G. H. Macdonald, Edmonton, is the architect.

Proposed site for the building is on the east side of 100 street between 102 and 103 avenues, it was learned from city authorities. Negotiations between the city and federal authorities on this site have been going on for some time.

"EITHER UNDERTAKE to meet the requirements of the problem or don't undertake it at all."

At the same time he rejected outright the Republican-backed proposal to create a new government corporation to administer the projected aid program. He called for a single administrator responsible

The Canadian finance minister told a press conference today that but for the assurance he had received that the loan would be granted the import restrictions

World Crisis Looms Over Greek Rebels

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Eastern Europe's Soviet satalites are preparing to recognize the Communist Greek government" of Markos Vafiades despite western warnings that the move will bring about a major international crisis, diplomatic authorities representing those countries here said today.

The informants, who said that the ultimate objective of the Communists was to capture Athens itself, predicted that recognition of the Vafiades regime was at most a question of months.

Only yesterday Britain and the United States advised Yugoslavia and Bulgaria of the "serious implications" of such a step, which they said would be contrary to the principles of the United Nations charter.

REINFORCING this warning was a disclosure that Britain has deferred a scheduled early evacuation of her 5,000 troops in Greece.

Moreover, official spokesmen said, she has reached a "broad agreement" with the United States not only on joint diplomatic action to be taken in the event of recognition, but also on military steps to support the Athens regime in its fluctuating fight against the guerillas.

The foreign office, without saying so formally, takes the view that the fall of Greece to Communist-led guerillas might precipitate a political landslide of grave nature in the Middle East.

Cash consideration for the two 40-acre tracts involved will be $250 per acre, plus $1 per acre for first year rental. The rights involved are owned by the crown.

Edmonton's Cheque Business Soars

By DICK JACKSON

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—There was a $63,133,639 increase in business transacted by cheque in the Edmonton district during the first 11 months of 1947, the business statistics branch of the Trade and Commerce Department's Dominion Bureau of Statistics today reported.

In compiling such statistical surveys, the bureau long has contended that the cheque volume of any urban centre provides a delicately accurate barometer of its employment position, weight of its payrolls, value of its industrial production and even of the economic well-being of adjacent agricultural areas.

For the first 11 months of the recently ended year, Edmonton in business done by cheque rolled up a whopping $1,168,083,060 as against $1,105,349,640 for the same period in the previous year.

For all Canada, the volume advanced by some $5,000,000,000, and, reported the Bureau was "a reflection of the high level of economic activity throughout the nation."

Labor Code Will Be Little Changed

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Controversial provisions of the proposed new federal labor code will be retained when it is re-introduced at the coming session of parliament, it was learned yesterday.

The bill—first brought in at the 1947 session but dropped by the government after two readings—is to be offered again through the commons and the 1948 version, it is learned, will be virtually unchanged from the original.

Some labor quarters—notably the 360,000-man Canadian Congress of Labor—had objected to some of its clauses.

It was contended, too, by labor that the measure—to replace the government's wartime authority in industrial disputes—should be extended into more industries than those the government proposes.

The government, it is understood, takes the position the bill is a "middle-of-the-road" measure and as such comes as close as possible to satisfying both employer and employe.

Almost Worth Its Weight in Gold at 95c a Pound

The lowly pig has come to be king of the barnyard these days and any Edmonton housewife can tell the reason why. Ham, such as the one held by the butcher in the photo, now sells at 95 cents a pound, to which level it has skyrocketed in the last few days. By way of comparison, in January, 1939, newspaper advertisements quoted premium ham at 32 cents a pound. Last week, before the newest overseas meat contract was announced, the price here was 48 cents a pound. —Photo by Bland.

Heavy Seas Hold Up Rescue

800 Passengers on Sinking Ship

By ERNEST HOBERECHT

TOKYO, Jan. 8.—(BUP)—Mountainous seas prevented rescue ships today from removing 800 passengers from the Russian motorship Dvina which was sinking off the coast of northern Japan.

SKIPPERS OF SHIPS which rushed to the Dvina's aid after she flashed an SOS yesterday, said they had some hope of averting a major marine disaster. The U.S. navy reported that the Dvina's list had been reduced from 45 to 30 degrees.

Navy officials were hopeful that the Dvina could be towed out of danger if she remained afloat. American aviators believed, however, that she was settling slowly.

The vessel was reached early today by Russian patrol ship No. 36, thought to be a lend-lease destroyer escort, and two smaller Russian ships, as well as the Japanese tanker Yoko Maru and the salvage tug Kentai Maru.

World Renowned Singer, Richard Tauber is Dead

LONDON, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Richard Tauber, 56, singer, composer and conductor, died today at a London nursing home.

One of the leading tenors of the German-speaking world, Tauber specialized as an interpreter of Mozart, and frequently was heard at Mozart festivals in Munich and Salzburg.

He was born at Linz, Austria, in 1892, and made his debut in 1913, scoring an immediate success. Within a few days he was given a five-year contract at the Dresden opera house, where he sang all the leading lyrical tenor roles.

In 1915, he appeared for the first time at the Berlin opera house and by 1919 was known throughout the German-speaking world. From 1925 on he began appearing in lighter operettas, such as those of Franz Lehar, and it was in these roles that he made his greatest name with the general public.

He became a British subject in 1940. His wife, the former Diana Napier, one-time film actress, was at his bedside when he died.

Tauber also composed symphonic music and conducted orchestras on four continents. He made several motion pictures in England.

NINE PERISH IN FLAMING AIR CRASH

PARIS, Jan. 8.—(Reuters)—Nine persons, including two children, were burned to death when a plane crashed against a hillside 32 miles west of Algiers today, Agence France-Presse reported.

The plane was bound for the Algerian towns of Biskra and Philippeville, where Canadian reinforcements for Sicilian and Italian fighting in 1943-44 encamped, but crashed an hour after taking off from Algiers. Killed were seven passengers and the crew of two.

The plane had difficulty with one of its engines when taking off at Algiers, the agency added.

JOSEPH STALIN

Papers Say J. Stalin Is Dead

BERN, Jan. 8.— (CP) — Two Bern newspapers speculated today that Prime Minister Stalin was dead. The Russian Embassy in London said there was nothing to the rumor.

DER BUND HEADLINED its story "Stalin dead;" in one edition, but changed this later to "About Stalin." It said reports of Stalin's death had been the subject of conversations in the federal council, chief executive authority of Switzerland.

"There is a serious background to these reports," Der Bund said. It called the rumor "the topic of the day in Moscow." (No Bern newspaper has a Moscow correspondent.)

The Swedish cancer specialist, Dr. Elis Berven, arrived in Moscow this week on a summons from four Russian doctors who said they wished to consult with him. Nothing on Dr. Berven's activities has come from the Moscow bureau of the Associated Press since a Tuesday dispatch, in which he reiterated that he did not know the identity of the patient whose case he was called to consider.

Makes New Attempt

Edmonton-Born Flier Out For Speed Record

By JACK SULLIVAN

LONDON, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Sqdn. Ldr. W. A. (Bill) Waterton, born in Edmonton and a former member of the RAF, will make a new air speed attempt at Moreton Vallance airdrome, near Hucclecote, Gloucestershire, next Tuesday, it was announced yesterday.

WATERTON, an employe of the Gloster Aircraft Company, is one of Britain's outstanding test pilots. Flying a Gloster twin-jet Meteor, he will attack the international closed-circuit speed record for aircraft of any power, captured for Britain from the United States last August by Group Capt. John Cunningham, test pilot of the De Havilland Company. Cunningham averaged 496.88 miles an hour, beating the record of 493.56, set in 1946 by United States flier.

Waterton's flight will cover a 100-kilometre course and he has an "excellent chance of lowering" the record. The 30-year-old flier is in the air almost daily putting the Meteor aircraft through its initial paces.

The Canadian-born flier, who whipped a jet-propelled plane from Paris to London, 208 miles, at 618.4

Sign New Agreement For Wanham Clearing

A new agreement between the provincial government and Lassiters Limited for breaking and clearing on the Wanham settlement project which will mean that cheques written by the contractor under the terms of a previous agreement will be honored, was announced Thursday by Premier Ernest Manning. The contractor will receive $25 an acre for new work.

NO CHANGE in the government agreement with the veteran settlers will be involved, Mr. Manning said. He will still pay a one-third share of his crop for seven years.

Under terms of the original contract with Lassiters Ltd. the government was to pay over to the contractor 96½ per cent of this individual share, while it retained the remaining three and a half per cent for building and maintenance of roads and other services in the district.

The new agreement calls for payment of a straight $25 an acre to the Lassiter firm for land ready to seed and will mean a total government outlay of $2,500,000 before the entire 100,000 acre project is ready for settlers.

MR. MANNING would not estimate the amount of outstanding cheques, which will be met under the terms of the new contract, but

Special legislation will be brought in early when Parliament resumes sessions to provide for increases in the initial payments to the farmers on the 1945-46-47 crops, it was stated in Edmonton today by Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce.

MR. MACKINNON said the wheat board has already made an initial advance of $1.35 per bushel and that the proposed new legislation will make payments retroactive to 1945.

The minister estimated the increase in the initial payment will be considerably more than the reputed 20 cents. This payment is apart from the participation certificates paid at the end of the wheat

Pork Products Spotlight Sharp Increase

Seek Means to Check Steadily Rising Costs As Lowly Cabbage Hits "Orchid Class" at $1

TORONTO, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Upsurges in the price of pork and other meat products continued today to hold the Canadian spotlight with discussion centering on how to meet and check price rises.

AS SOON AS an increase of seven cents a pound for No. 1 Wiltshire sides under the Anglo-Canadian food contracts was announced, retailers hiked their prices for pork as much as 20 cents a pound. In some places, bacon prices passed the $1-a-pound mark.

Retail prices of lamb advanced two to five cents a pound and dealers said beef products also were slated for a price increase.

The meat price boosts came on the heels of a climb in vegetable prices which followed announcement of import restrictions. One Toronto paper yesterday published a front-page picture of an Ontario grown cabbage, until recently marketed at 7½ cents a pound, and now "in the orchid class" at $1.

Another Toronto paper, the Globe and Mail, said the local welfare council established that it now cost $44.45 a week to keep a man, his wife, a 10-year-old daughter, a boy aged six and another boy aged 12 years. This figure compared with $34.40 for the same family of five in 1939 and the council said the food budget provided only "bare essentials."

UNCONFIRMED OTTAWA reports were that the combines investigation commission was probing to determine whether some food handling organizations in both the wholesale and retail fields might be boosting prices unduly.

At the same time, the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada called a Toronto meeting of its national executive, food division, for

Communist Activity In Brazil Is Gone

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 8.—(AP)—President Enrico Gaspar Dutra put into effect last night a law abolishing the last legal vestige of Communist activity in Brazil by removing all Communists from elective posts.

Dutra signed the measure after the chamber of deputies adopted it, 181 to 74, at the conclusion of the most turbulent legislative session ever held in Brazil. The senate previously had passed the bill.

Govt. Issues New Directory

Fewer Wrong Numbers Dialed at Ottawa Today

By H. DENT HODGSON

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—(CP)—You'd be surprised how few people will notice it, but a brighter sun dawned over Ottawa today. It came in the form of a small, grey-green volume known as the Dominion Government telephone directory, which used to be issued every six months, but what with one thing and another hasn't emerged for a year and a half—since July 1946.

FOR MONTHS, in the intervening period, you could look up the official directory, published by the King's Printer, and get as many wrong numbers as the dial twirled.

You could fail to get Finance Minister Ilsley, Fisheries Minister Bridges, Justice Minister St. Laurent, Health Minister Claxton, State Secretary Gibson, or the external affairs minister—Prime Minister Mackenzie King. After that, you could fail to reach any number of their cohorts.

They all come out right in the new directory. The way things last in the capital, they may even survive for a few months.

But thumb through a host of lesser officials in the old book and you'll find a number means a little more than:

"I'm sorry, but Mr. Phillips was moved into our development division six months ago . . ."

"Major-General Klang? Oh no, the Chinese government supply agency has been disbanded some years back . . ."

"I'M SORRY, you must have the wrong number . . ."

For the statistically-minded, it may be said that the new directory has only 124 pages, compared to 149 in the old one. This may be indication of smaller government services or not.

It may be fewer people have phones or fewer civil servants, but the old book, a year and a half ago, had 7,190 names listed, compared with 5,800 now.

Although just distributed, the new directory is dated October, and already it is outdated. It fails to take in the recent reorganization of the mines and resources department and still lists F. L. C. Pereira as secretary to the governor-general, although the post was taken over this month by J. F. Delaute of the correspondence branch of the state department.

miles an hour last January, came to England in 1939 to join the RAF and served throughout the war.

IN SEPTEMBER, 1946, at Tangmere, Sussex, he travelled at 614 miles an hour when a three-man RAF team aimed at the world record. A team-mate, Group Capt. E. M. Donaldson, reached 616 miles an hour but this record was lost to the United States in 1947 when the speed was advanced to slightly more than 650 miles an hour.

Waterton's attempt Tuesday will be observed and timed by members of the Royal Aero Club, acting as official observers on behalf of the International Aeronautical Federation, governing body for all air speed record tries.

The son of Police Chief and Mrs William Waterton of Camrose, Sqdn. Ldr. Waterton, was born in Edmonton in 1916. He was educated at Camrose schools and Camrose Lutheran College, and attended Royal Military College at Kingston for three years, graduating in 1937.

He was cadet officer attached to the 19th Alberta Dragoons in 1937 and later joined the Dragoons with a commission. In 1938 and 1939 he was in charge of physical training classes for men at Camrose under the provincial youth training scheme.

In 1939 he was accepted for a commission in the RAF and proceeded overseas. He had a narrow escape in 1940 when he crashed near Dover after his plane was disabled by anti-aircraft.

After Party Outlawed

Rio de Janeiro Police Battle Communists

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Police fought today with Communists attempting to publish an edition of their newspaper in the wake of congressional action withdrawing the last vestage of legality from the Brazilian Communist party.

FOUR COMMUNISTS were wounded. Police broke into the printing plant, using tear gas bombs and machine-guns, when workers refused to halt presses printing an edition covering the action by the chamber of deputies last night stripping Brazilian Communists, the largest Communist party in the western hemisphere, of all elective posts.

The edition was being printed in the plant formerly used by the Communist newspaper Tribuna Popular, suspended for attacks on the government during the debate on the bill to oust Communist legislators.

The outburst came when police tried to enforce an order to close the newspaper for 15 days but were refused admittance.

A CARLOAD of 40 red-capped shock police rolled up, armed with tommy-guns. They raced toward the door under fire and sprayed the shop with bullets. Then they planted bombs in the grating, through which they shot tear gas, nauseating gas and asphyxiation gas. The Communists inside hurled incendiary bombs and hand grenades at the doorway, but none landed outside.

The gas took effect swiftly, and soon 20 Communists staggered out. The police, now numbering about 100, arrested them as they emerged, after their five-hour siege.

THE CHAMBER of deputies passed, and President Enrico Gaspar Dutra immediately signed, the law which affects a senator, 14 deputies, 60 members of state legislatures and 18 members of the Rio de Janeiro city council. The senate had passed the bill previously.

B.C. Doukhobors Face Confinement

NELSON, B.C., Jan. 8.—(CP)—Doukhobors in the Kootenay valley, where inter-colonial communism has reached a crisis after seven months of fire raids and property destruction, may be confined to their own lands until a peace-pattern can be formulated by British Columbia government authorities.

Such a plan is favored by Judge H. J. Sullivan of New Westminster, special commissioner appointed by the provincial government to investigate Doukhobor disturbances.

He reported in a statement last night that a state of emergency exists in the Doukhobor colonies, and that hearings of the commission have been adjourned until order is restored.

". . . It may mean that every person residing on community land may be confined to their own dwelling until the question of his or her sanity or criminality has been determined by proper investigation," he said.

said that arrangements had been made under the contract for honoring them.

The new agreement also provides for retirement of the $500,000 originally advanced to the company in the form of credit in the Treasury Branches and for the refunding of whatever sums are involved in honoring cheques which had been returned when work ceased at the end of October.

Some land already has been cleared on the 10,000-acre section of the project. The new contract will cover whatever work has been performed up to the present.

THE WORK OF clearing will be started at once, Mr. Manning said. He declined to predict when the first settler would be able to move onto his farm.

The original breaking contract remains unchanged except as it contained provision for crop-share payments. Work now will be paid for when the government supervisor on the project declares the land concerned is ready for seeding.

Stalin Report

Mario Pimentel Brandao, who left Moscow in November after serving as Brazilian ambassador to the Soviet Union. He said Stalin's right side was paralyzed. However, persons who reported seeing Stalin in Moscow last month said he was tanned after a vacation in the south of Russia, and appeared in good health.

The Russian leader is 68.

The Russian monitor in London, a unit of the News Agency Tass, announced the embassy denial there. The monitor's office called the report "nonsense" and said nothing had been received from Moscow to support it.

VLADIMIR PAVLOV, counsellor of the Soviet embassy in London, called the report "obviously a slanderous and monstrous fabrication." Michail Svirin, secretary to the Russian ambassador, commented: "I do not think it is true."

The British foreign office reported it had heard nothing about the death rumor.

Stalin's existence and state of well-being have long been the subject of rumors. Only a few days ago the visit of a Swedish cancer specialist to Moscow was linked with the Soviet Premier's health.

As early as 1933 Stalin was reported dying from heart disease.

Pimentel Brandao, last Brazilian ambassador in Moscow, said in Rio de Janeiro yesterday that the state of Stalin's health was "very grave." Stalin, he asserted, was partially paralyzed in the right side, which affected the right arm and leg, and he had to use crutches in walking.

THE LATEST REPORT from Moscow referring to Stalin's health came just over a fortnight ago and said it appeared to be excellent when, wearing his generalissimo's uniform, he voted in the city's municipal elections. He had recently spent a long holiday on the Black Sea Riviera and the first photograph published since his return showed that he had put on weight.

The last previous persistent series of rumors of Stalin's ill-health was about a year ago. Reports that he was dead or dying from acute heart disease were contradicted by an official at the Soviet embassy in London.

Arms Carrier Shanghai Bound

HONG KONG, Jan. 8.—(BUP)—The steamer Cliffside, carrying a 2,500 ton cargo of war equipment from Canada to China, was prepared to leave here today for Shanghai. She would call first at Keelung on Formosa.

The Cliffside's cargo contained arms and ammunition, high explosives, four Mosquito aircraft, unassembled engines for an ammunition factory, and a considerable quantity of UNRRA radium. The aircraft were carried in crates on the decks and were slightly damaged by the heavy seas encountered on the voyage from Singapore.

The shipment was part of an agreement between Canada and China under which the Dominion is to supply $10,500,000 worth of surplus war material including 170 aircraft with guns, ammunition and ground equipment.

Marshall

to the president and working in harmony with the state secretary on foreign policy questions.

"There cannot be two secretaries of state," Marshall asserted.

The man whose name designates the "Marshall Plan" for European recovery appeared before the Senate foreign relations committee as the first of more than a dozen high officials assigned to present the Democratic administration's case to the Republican Congress for a four-year, multi-billion-dollar program of assistance to western Europe.

Marshall declared: "Dollars will not save the world—but the world today cannot be saved without dollars."

HIS BRISKLY-WRITTEN, 5,500-word statement sketched the arguments for the Europe project, told how and why he thinks it should work, why he considers it necessary and what it ought to cost.

He described the $6,800,000,000 which President Truman has asked for the first 15 months of the plan, as a "precision figure" which "does not represent a generous estimate of requirements. It was not an "asking figure" based on expected cuts by Congress.

AS FOR the whole undertaking, he reiterated earlier estimates that the cost might range between $15,100,000,000 and $17,800,000,000 but "the over-all cost is not capable of precise determination so far in advance.

THE GUIDING PRINCIPLES should determine the amount and timing of our aid. It must be adequate. It must be prompt. It must be effectively applied.

"An inadequate program would involve a wastage of our resources with an ineffective result, either to undertake to meet the requirements of the problem or don't undertake it at all.

"The sooner this program can get under way the greater its chances of success . . . unless the program can be started in operation on or soon after April 1, there will undoubtedly be a serious deterioration in some of the basic conditions upon which the whole project is predicated.

"A WORLD OF continuing unreal half-peace will create demands for constantly mounting expenditures for defence. This program should be viewed as an investment in peace. In those terms, the cost is low."

The alternative to economic recovery was a Western European collapse in which "the historic base of western civilization . . . will take on a new form in the image of the tyranny that we fought to destroy in Germany.

"Our national security will be seriously threatened. We shall live in effect in an armed camp, regulated and controlled."

Oil Rights

lands and mines, Edmonton, up to 3 o'clock in the afternoon of Tuesday, Jan. 20.

No further information was available this morning on Imperial Oil Ltd.'s wildcat well at Woodbend which Wednesday gave a rise of natural gas at a rate of 1,300,000 cubic feet daily in a 35 minute drillstem test in the lower D3 oil zone. The rise of gas was the answer that favors the well as a discovery. The test was run in top few feet of the D3 zone of the Devonian, at an interval between 5,238-46 feet.

This well, if successful, could be a northwestern extension to the Leduc sector, or could possibly be a separate pool.

Two Imperial wells at Leduc, Nos. 23 and 25, were being swabbed Thursday morning, prior to being placed on production. No. 23 was swabbed to a depth of 4,000 feet at last reports while No. 25 kicked in yesterday but died down. Swabbing was being continued this morning.

Other reports on Imperial wells at Leduc are: No. 28, drilling at 5,005 feet; No. 29, drilling at 4,233 feet; No. 30, drilling at 4,545 feet; No. 31, drilling at 4,529 feet; No. 32, expected to spud in today.

Central-Leduc Oil's Pyrce No. 2 was further delayed from production when a break in the tubing forced halting of swabbing. Tubing, however, had been replaced and swabbing was again under way at latest reports.

Atlantic Oils-Leduc No. 2 was also swabbing at latest reports following a delay caused when a fire wrecked the boiler house at the well site.

circled above with lifeboats and emergency equipment. Five other Japanese ships, including two repatriation vessels, were racing to join the rescue operation.

Brief messages from the American planes said the Dvina was "wallowing dangerously in a heavy sea" with a list of 45 degrees. Five ship's engine was knocked out and it was reported taking on water rapidly.

Raging seas prevented the first two vessels from taking off the Dvina's passengers, the American aerial messages said. It was believed they were awaiting more help from other vessels before attempting the dangerous transfer.

AMONG THE FIVE vessels racing to the scene was the 4,500-ton Japanese repatriation ship Uzen Maru, capable of handling 2,000 passengers.

World Crisis

ist control, Russia would have a strong foothold in the Eastern Mediterranean which would enable her to dominate not only the economically-weak Arab states but also the pro-Soviet-inclined countries of southern Europe.

Turkey would be effectively isolated from the west by a chain of states sympathetic to Russia's international policies.

The Soviet and satellite countries producing much of the world's oil would be accessible only with difficulty.

Important in the picture is a recent speech by Foreign Minister Bevin of Britain, quoted as saying that the constitution of political blocs, federations or unions did not override his oversea's commitments faithful to only one bloc—the United Nations.

BRITISH OBSERVERS regarded the speech as a cautious retreat from the west to the east, indicating that Turkey believes Russia is determined to attain dominant security and the only way of escaping catastrophe is to come to terms with her.

Price Increases

Jan. 19-20 to consider what it called "a national problem of serious importance—rising food costs."

The United Electrical Workers (CIO) sent Prime Minister Mackenzie King a telegram asking for a program of price control.

Said the Ontario Cheese Producers Association in Toronto voted 300-to-four against a resolution calling for reimposition of price controls. One delegate said that in other years the association had asked for removal of controls.

M. J. COLDWELL, national leader of the CCF, demanded that the federal government call by-elections immediately in the vacant constituencies of Yale, B.C., and Ontario and place the question of price controls squarely before the electors of those ridings.

From the Canadian Congress of Labor came a suggestion of a "consumers' austerity program" to check price rises. The congress urged its members to reduce to a minimum their consumption of beef, pork, fats and oils, butter, shortening, dairy products and vegetables.

In the western Ontario centres of Windsor and Kitchener, increases in hospital rates were attributed to rising food costs.

RESTAURANT MENUS told their own story of rising food prices. Vancouver, Calgary and Regina were among cities in which increases of 5 to 15 cents on dishes containing pork were in effect or in the offing. Vancouver said customers were switching from bacon and eggs to flapjacks.

The national board of directors of the Canadian Restaurant Association called a meeting for today in London, Ont., with food costs high on the agenda.

PERHAPS JUST in time to "save the bacon" for harassed housewives came a surprise from The Pas, Man., for a delicacy called beaver-tail soup. It started out: "Wash three beaver tails . . ." (beaver is unquoted by the pound . . . yet.)

five-member Palestine partition commission set up by the assembly in New York Nov. 29, when the plan to split Palestine was finally approved. The commission will elect officers and plunge into the task of working out methods for partitioning the Holy Land in the face of violent Arab opposition.

LIE STILL was working today on the text of his opening remarks. Reports were that he would warn delegates of the difficulties and problems ahead and plead for action to overcome opposition and violence if possible.

The commission's first task will be to arrange for consultations with Britain, which, as mandatory power, controls Palestine. A British spokesman said that delegate Sir Alexander Cadogan was ready to confer and was understood that he would be prepared to lay a British timetable for troop evacuation before the U.N.

THE COMMISSION also was expected to seek early conferences with the Jewish Agency for Palestine and the Arab higher committee. Moshe Shertok, considered a possible choice for foreign minister of the Jewish state, will represent the agency. The invitation to Palestine Arab representatives actually was only a formality as they have opposed partition bitterly from the first and, with the solid backing of the Arab-Moslem world, have refused to taken any role in carrying out the plan.

The assembly resolution calls for the end of British rule by Aug. 1 and independence for separate Jewish and Arab states by Oct. 1. The British authorities have said unofficially they are ready to give up their rule May 15 and have troops evacuated by Aug. 1.

Big Dollar Shortage

Adverse Balance With U.S. Canada's Worst

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—(CP)—The adverse balance of trade with the United States, which indicates the amount by which Canada is short of U.S. dollars in purchases from her southern neighbor, took another great leap forward during Nov. ember, and now appears to have shot over the $900,000,000 mark for 1947.

OFFICIAL figures released yesterday placed the November deficit at $79,800,000 and that alone thrust the total for the first 11 months of 1947 to a record $884,200,000 and left the promise that the $900,000,000 ceiling will be cracked when the December trading totals are reported next month.

While it threw into sharp emphasis the continuing drain on Canada's U.S. dollar reserves, the November total showed a heartening decline of $6,400,000 from the October deficit of $86,200,000 but still was $21,700,000 ahead of the November, 1946, total.

However, the November figures did not reflect the effects of the government's dollar-saving program launched Nov. 17 since it generally was conceded that any reduction it may have brought in the import figure would not have become apparent until early December.

At $884,200,000 the adverse balance—the amount Canada has to pay in American funds to cover the difference between what she sells the U.S. and what the U.S. buys from her—now is $387,-500,000 over the total for the whole of 1946.

The total amount of American dollars which the Exchange Control Board is expected to have on hand for the whole of this year is $1,200,-000'000.

TO MEET THIS, Canada probably will receive $350,000,000 in U.S. dollars from the United Kingdom in part-payment of commonwealth adverse balances, $150,000,000 from American tourist traffic in Canada, $100,000,000 from gold shipments to the U.S., and $50,000,000 from trade with European and Latin-American countries.

During the pre-Christmas session of parliament, Finance Minister Abbott disclosed that the country's dollar reserves, which stood at $1,244,900,000 at the beginning of 1947, had dwindled to around $500,-000,000 after payments to settle monthly balances and other obligations.

IN ADDITION, Canada will have $300,000,000 when a new obtained from the U.S. Export-Import Bank and which she expects to use only in case of an emergency.

At $900,000,000 the adverse balance will be the worst in Canada's history.

The 1935-39 average, in a peacetime era when U.S. dollars were easy to come by, was only $87,000,000.

Crop Payments

pool term, which is 1945-46-47-48-49, ceasing in July of 1950.

Mr. MacKinnon added it is unlikely the quota system will be used this year although the authority for its use still exists. Its only use will be for local disposition, where it is required to operate wheat deliveries. The quota system was administered in this manner in 1947 and Mr. MacKinnon expressed the belief that the same system would prevail next year.

DEALING WITH export wheat, Mr. MacKinnon issued the following statement:

The movement of export wheat to the Pacific Coast has improved considerably during the past month although overseas shipment is still hampered by the high moisture content. This requires drying of a high percentage of the terminal elevator loads. Most of the oats and barley and wheat grading below No. 4 Northern are being shipped east for use by eastern feeders.

During the past month Alberta country elevator stocks have fallen about six million bushels, to a total of 45 million bushels of all grains. During the same period, about 11 million bushels of grain have been delivered to country elevators by farmers so the outward shipments from country elevators have amounted to 17 million bushels.

Much of the congestion prevalent in country elevators at the end of November has been relieved, and although the car loads declined during the holiday season, every effort will be made to move the great bulk of the Alberta crop before spring. The high moisture content necessitates movement during the season of low temperatures.

During the month of December, 1,615 cars were loaded at country points on the Northern Alberta Railways—a significant improvement over the 931 cars loaded in November.

It was advised in Winnipeg by the Canadian Wheat Board that cheques covering practically all requisitions received on the 1946 wheat payment have been mailed to producers. About 82 per cent of the full payment has been made. It is interesting to note that the average value of the 221,000 cheques already issued is $245.00. When the payment on subsequent wheat deliveries is authorized by parliament, a new payment set-up will be in operation capable of sending out cheques three or four times as fast as the present system.

would have been more severe.

The credit will be used to buy United States raw materials and machinery necessary to maintain Canadian economy, he said. No commercial loan was being considered at the moment but was not to be ruled out as a possible source of American credit later this year.

On the subject of a more extensive trade agreement with the United States officials he had talked to here were "sympathetic".

HE WAS ANXIOUS to see a new agreement "more extensive" than that involved in the Geneva agreements now before parliament.

The finance minister, who arrived yesterday, planned to leave late today for New York where he will spend Friday. He reaches Montreal early Saturday.

He told customteers that while he can not commit the government in advance he is sure that it will be the policy to continue helping the United Kingdom and on other European countries as resources permit.

"OUR ATTITUDE is not to leave it all up to the United States," he said. Canada had already done more per capita than the United States had done in aiding the United Kingdom and Europe.

Federal Building

Under the proposal now being considered, it would be necessary to close a street, and city council has yet to agree to this closing.

There is also the question of whether or not the building will be erected flush with the sidewalk on 102 street, or recessed with landscaping fronting the building on three sides with parking space provided on the fourth side.

AGREEMENT on these details also has not been reached. It is understood the Dominion government has asked the city to bear the cost of landscaping and the maintenance of lawns and gardens proposed under the plan.

When queried regarding Prime Minister King's retirement, the Minister said: "I leave here at the week-end for Calgary and then go on to two other meetings in Southern Alberta. Then I go straight to Ottawa for an important meeting of the National Council of the National Liberal Federation."

According to Mr. MacKinnon, no consideration has been given as yet to filling of two Alberta seats in the Canadian Senate.

Armed Services' "Go-Buggy" in Peacetime Role

Thousands of Edmonton veterans bumped over Europe, parts of Africa, the Old Country and even the Far East in the jeep, famed iron horse of World War II. Today the jeep is finding as many peacetime jobs as it found jobs in the global war. Above, one is seen with a snowplow blade, clearing snow off city sidewalks. "A little slower than on the road to Holland," one veteran mused as he saw the snow-pusher at work. "But a lot safer."

Ask Protection

Acceptance Housing Proposition Likely

Acceptance by city council Monday night of the national defence department's $600,000 housing proposition appeared a certainty as four members of the council's finance committee Wednesday, at an informal meeting with Mayor Harry Ainlay, decided to support the proposal.

ALD. JAMES H. OGILVIE, K.C., was of the opinion the Dominion government should purchase the property at a fair price, and objected to the request that the property be deeded to the crown for a nominal sum.

Mayor Ainlay pointed out that the property at present was under lease to the Dominion government at a rental of one dollar a year, and therefore the city was not losing much by deeding the land over.

He told committee members there were 32 acres in the parcel of land sought by the defence department, and suggested that any agreement entered into should be subject to certain conditions.

It was suggested that the agreement should carry clauses stipulating that if any of the property was sold the city should be reimbursed at least the value of the land, and also that if the property ceased to be used for military purposes that it should revert to the city. He proposed also that agreement should be reached on the question of payment of some consideration for educational services rendered by the city's school boards.

HE TOLD THE committee members that the department of national defence would construct main and lateral sewers to connect the property with city mains, and also would pay the city a lump sum each year for maintenance. The department also would be responsible for landscaping and maintenance of the grounds.

Mayor Ainlay will discuss the proposal with members of the by-laws committee at a meeting to be held Thursday afternoon, and it is expected the majority of aldermen on that committee will agree to acceptance of the proposal.

Army Officers At Safety Talks

Capt. J. A. MacKenzie, co-ordinating officer, joint services accident prevention program, Ottawa, and Capt. M. E. Meers, Command safety officer, Western Command, Edmonton, conferred Wednesday with Howard Stutchbury and Paul Lawrence, Edmonton Safety Council officials.

Accident prevention methods which could be adopted to armed service operations were under discussion. Immediate concern to the services is driver training and annual examination of drivers, to reduce the number of accidents involving service vehicles.

Capt. MacKenzie said the number of service vehicle accidents resulting in death, injury, and property damage is far too high at present. By using modern safety methods, savings of thousands of dollars each year is anticipated. He stressed the importance of co-operation with civilian safety organizations and said his officers have received invaluable aid in every city where an active safety council exists.

Capt. Meers, whose territory includes all of Western Command, is accompanying Capt. MacKenzie on a tour of British Columbia army posts.

Red Cross Collects 7,000 Qts. Blood

Operating in Alberta only five and a half months, The Canadian Red Cross Society's free blood transfusion service has already collected and distributed nearly 7,000 quarts of whole blood to hospitals throughout the province at an estimated saving to the public of more than $100,000, it was announced today by Red Cross officials.

In addition to the use of whole blood, more than 1,500 bottles of plasma have been stored in Alberta hospitals to be used in times of emergency and in the treatment of shock cases. The carrying out of over 2,700 Rh clinical typings in cases of expectant mothers is another feature of this free Red Cross Service.

Organized in Alberta in July, the Canadian Red Cross blood transfusion service is now the sole source of supply for blood to nearly all hospitals in this province. Under this new service any patient requiring a blood transfusion now receives it entirely free of charge. In co-operation with the Red Cross, hospitals and doctors administer transfusions without cost to the patient.

Medical and hospital authorities throughout the province give high praise to this new Red Cross service.

"To carry on this life saving work," Red Cross officials pointed out, "the Service depends upon the conscientious support of every citizen to come forward willingly as a blood donor."

Woman Mayor Has Practical Idea On Costs

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., Jan. 8.—(CP)—Mrs. Norah E. Arnold, mayor of this city, is a practical woman. She wants to fight rising civic administration costs. Yesterday she declined to accept $2,000 as her annual indemnity when it was offered her by the new city council.

Mayor Arnold declared "$1,200 will be enough because we are going to be up against some heavy expenses this year."

Plan South Alberta Service Club Chain

CALGARY, Jan. 8.—(CP)—A chain of service clubs in southern Alberta, with a combined membership of 2,000 by the end of 1948 in Calgary alone, is planned by Allan (Al) Jones, who has played an active role in young men's service work in Calgary for several years. The clubs, planned for churches of all denominations, will be known as the AOTS—formed from the 25 verse, 22 chapter of the book of Luke, "As One That Serveth." Objects of the AOTS, formed in Vancouver in 1923 are community work, youth work, athletics, education and fellowship.

Mass Reroofing New Project Here

A specialty in the building contracting industry seems to have developed in Edmonton, judging by the building permits issued by the city architect's office Monday.

W. B. McCready, Edmonton contractor, took out 75 permits for the re-roofing of houses in different parts of the city. Each permit was for $300, giving the contractor a neat $15,000 building program for the start of this year.

Name Director Drama Festival

Improved Types

Poultry Produce Now Fourth Big Industry

Poultry produce was a $22,000,000 business in 1947 making it Alberta's fourth largest industry. This was revealed by C. W. Traves, provincial poultry commissioner, who addressed members of the Western Canada Producers Association, Alberta division attending the annual meeting and banquet of the association in the Macdonald hotel Wednesday night.

According to Mr. Traves Alberta is consistently developing an improved market type of turkey which can be borne out by the marked improved grades in the last six or seven years.

In recent times due to the lack of sufficient breeding stock this province has been importing turkey eggs and poults especially from the United States. Mr. Traves stated a large percentage of the importation is from oversized broad breasted flocks. The result is too many large turkeys on the Alberta market. However the Alberta turkey barring policy discards all oversized and coarse birds as well as all other birds of undesirable market types. "This will mean we will be producing more birds of desired type in the favored weight categories as the policy develops", said Mr. Traves.

The provincial poultry commissioner told the meeting the revised British egg contracts will mean encouragement for the poultry industry to maintain egg production. He added the opening of the U.S. market for export permits has already resulted in a 5 cent increase per pound on poultry to the producer. This compensates the 5 cent drop which occurred last summer when Britain was unable to renew the contracts.

It is anticipated the poultry industry will continue on a firm basis, and the revised agreements should prove satisfactory to the producer who is efficient, was Mr. Traves' concluding remark.

L. F. Dawes, district inspector Dominion department of agriculture poultry services also addressed the meeting.

Heavy increases in the marketing of shell eggs for exportation to Great Britain in the last week were forecasted by Mr. Dawes. He stated 12 cars had been shipped from Northern Alberta in the last week. The shipment of 12 cars is equal to 660 cases or 19,800 dozen eggs. The bumper shipment was brought about by the production of early chicks.

Mr. Dawes also revealed turkey marketings for the 1947 season were above 67% higher than those of the 1946 season for inspected birds. The turkey season extends from the last week of October to the first week of January.

Tenders Already Called

Pro-Cathedral Design Combines Latest Ideas

St. Anthony's pro-cathedral, to be erected this year at the south east corner of 107 street and Whyte avenue, will be a church new in architectural design in this country both as to its planning and general design, according to Blakey and Blakey, architects on the project.

TENDERS FOR its erection have been called for, and it is understood that the structure, which will be of brick construction will cost approximately $200,000.

The church will be semi-circular in contour, and will be placed at an angle on the property with the entrance facing the corner. Inside the church there is a semi-circular aisle which runs right round and back of the nave. The interior of the church is semi-circular with a raised floor, and without columns. The sanctuary is immediately opposite the entrance, and is visible from every part of the church.

The choir room is at the back of the church to the south of the narthex, and located on the north side is a guild room.

ALONG THE AISLE to the east is the baptistry, and then the church offices. Back of the sanctuary the sacristy and chapel is located. At the most easterly section the rectory will be located, and access to the church will be through the office section. Over the baptistry a 66-foot bell tower will be erected.

The interior of the church will be treated acoustically, and will be finished in plaster and birch panelling. The aisles, narthex and baptistry will be finished in terrazzo. The tower will be of concrete construction.

For Superintendents

Committee Suggests Cost Of Living Bonus

Forty superintendents and assistant superintendents of civic departments will receive a cost of living bonus retroactive to July 1, 1947, if a recommendation of the finance committee is accepted by city council at Monday night's meeting.

REQUEST FOR the increase to it meet cost of living increases was made by the superintendents at the last council meeting, and was referred to the committee for consideration. The city commissioners had recommended that the request for the increase be granted.

Under the recommendation to council they will receive a $10 monthly increase from July to December 31, 1947, and an increase of $15 monthly during 1948. The resolution carries a rider that at the expiration of this year the salary question be again reviewed.

Dr. G. M. Little, medical officer of health, spokesman for the superintendents, told committee members that all other civic servants had been given pay increases to meet increased living costs, but superintendents and assistants had not received such consideration. He submitted that they were entitled to the increase, and added that approximately 40 members of the civic staff were affected by the application.

CITY COMPTROLLER A. A. Campbell estimated that the proposed increase for the superintendents and their assistants would cost approximately $7,800.

The committee decided also to recommend to council that a grant of $600 be made to the Edmonton Council for Adult Education. Previously the council had decided to make a grant of $300 to the educational body, but this was rejected, and council was informed that the proposed classes for 1948 would not be operated.

In making the recommendation to council that the $600 grant be given, the committee suggested that it be contingent on the city commissioners being satisfied with the proposed schedule of classes.

The committee decided also to recommend that council nominate representatives from the aldermanic board to sit on the Edmonton Industrial Board, and also that the city commissioners endeavor to formulate a plan which will increase co-operation between the board and the city's industrial commissioner, G. W. Curtis.

A Building for the Blind

City service clubs and other local organizations have decided to launch a campaign on February 15th to raise $100,000 for a recreation building for the blind.

The building, which will be erected at 120 street and Jasper avenue, on property already owned by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, will cost something more than $150,000, but $56,000 is already in hand for the new structure.

It is a sound and deserving project. Not only is the care of blinded persons a charge upon the conscience of society, but there are economic factors involved which will confer a benefit upon the community.

The establishment of any new institution of this kind is a sign of civic vigor. Moreover, since it will promote the restoration to a greater degree of usefulness of many people who have been incapacitated by the loss of sight, the productive capacity of the community will be correspondingly increased.

The proposal should have warm and ready support.

Back to Controls?

It is becoming conjectural that price ceilings will have to be reimposed on meat in Canada, and—of course—compensating subsidies paid to producers.

There would be little point in doing this if meat prices in the home market are established by trade in keeping with the export prices set in the new contracts with Britain. Canadian consumers cannot expect to get meat at lower prices than farmers and packers can get by shipping overseas.

There was no prospect that at the outset prices in Canada would rise to that level and no higher. Prices never adjust themselves with such nicety immediately. Sometimes they lag, but more often they jump overnight beyond the level justified by a new and stimulating factor. Meat prices are widely reported to have zoomed away above the marks warranted by the contract figures.

They may level-off downward in a few days under the normal influence of competition and shrinking sales. But if they do not, pressure will increase for restoration of price-controls—and producer-subsidies. No new legislation is necessary should this have to be done. Order-in-council is all that would be required, and it can be passed in a few minutes.

Perhaps a clearer remembrance of that fact will bring meat down to the level of the average table.

Those British Settlers

The news columns present an encouraging report from London where, it is said, Alberta's representatives who are over there to open a provincial immigration office have been swamped with the appeals of those who wish to migrate to this province.

Doubtless Hon. A. J. Hooke and Mr. R. A. McMullen have very comprehensive ideas of how many British settlers can be absorbed by Alberta and just what positions they are to fill.

If the enthusiasm, however, is as powerful as reported, it may be necessary to revise those ideas a little.

Or, on the other hand, secure the creation of new industries in Alberta wherein could be employed the many useful skills to be found among the British people.

In leathercraft and pottery-making, for instance, as well as scores of other activities, the British have always excelled.

Is it not reasonable then, to believe that a careful re-survey of Alberta's natural resources should go hand-in-hand with the present immigration venture, so that new industries of all kinds could be made to accommodate, not just as many Britishers as had been expected, but all who wish to come?

A Promising Sign

Canadians will have that hopeful look as they scan the tax proposals which President Truman put before Congress yesterday. They will hope that a somewhat similar slash may come their way when the Dominion budget is brought down a few weeks hence.

The President proposes to knock $40 off the income taxes of every taxpayer and $40 more for every dependent. The reduction would be right across the board, applying alike to rich and poor, but obviously giving the greater relief to the poor and those not-so-poor but who have large families. It is calculated that 10,000,000 people who pay now would have nothing to pay under the new deal.

Congress, being of the other household of faith—and this being an election year—may throw this plan into the discard and evolve one of its own. But if so the substitute scheme is not likely to be any less generous to those who find the tax-burden heaviest.

In one respect our own Government is in better position to slash income taxes than the President is. The $3,200,000,000 which Mr. Truman proposes to forgive income taxpayers he wants to get back by levying heavier taxation on corporation profits. Ottawa, with a reported surplus of $700,000,000 or more, can make a good heavy cut in income taxes without taking the money back from some other source.

So Canadians will see in the news from Washington a sign that like glad tidings may come from Ottawa when Mr. Abbott brings down his budget. Particularly glad because what they save in income taxes will help to offet the higher cost of living and enable them to support their families on a better scale than they would otherwise be able to do.

Better Write Stalin Too

In the Allied Council at Tokyo, Moscow's representative General Kislenko refused to disclose what became of the huge Japanese arsenals which Russian forces captured in Manchuria. These arms are said to now be in the hands of the Chinese Communists who are fighting the nationalist government of General Chiang Kai Shek.

This may be interesting to some Canadians who have been protesting because Canada was shipping arms to Kai Shek's armies under the mutual-aid agreement made in war-time. No protest was made about sending munitions to Chiang's forces when they were fighting the Japs. Only now, when the government set up by the national convention is fighting for its life against a Communist attempt to overthrow it, it is objected that the government should be left to sink or swim regardless of the agreement.

One of the objectors has suggested writing to President Truman and Prime Minister King on the subject. He said nothing about writing to Premier Stalin, though the Communist forces are based just across the Russian border and have reportedly been getting arms and planes and other equipment from that source.

The silence of Kislenko as to where the Japanese weapons went should stir some doubts in the mind of the former missionary who proposes writing to Washington as well as to Ottawa. He might address another letter to Moscow, and see how much information he can get there.

Palestine had what the despatches called a "fairly quiet day" this week. The "only" violence reported was the murder of a British policeman and the bombing of a Jewish home. In any other country classed as civilized these events would mark the day as outstanding in the chronology of crime. That helps to illustrate how chaotic are the conditions which have spread across the Holy Land.

HOW TO TORTURE YOUR HUSBAND

by Webster

Policeman's Lot

By HAROLD L. WEIR

Somewhere among the bright and jingling pages of the "Pirates of Penzance," Sir W. S. Gilbert wrote: "When constabulary duty's to be done,
A policeman's lot is not a happy one."

The wisdom of this observation is as striking as its tunefulness. For one does not need to be a long acting student of police affairs to realize that the policeman performs a difficult and vital task with an exceedingly small meed of credit.

WEIR

He walks his beat in the burning sun and in the harshest winds of winter. He observes and corrects and prevents all the more blatant follies of mankind.

He stands between the reckless and danger. He stands between lawful men and the rebels against society. He offers and sometimes gives his life in the cause of law and order.

And to most of the populace hurrying by he is neither heroic nor important. He is a fixture like a lamppost.

Policemen are not appreciated. Their lot is not a happy one.

YET WHEN THE NEWS COLumns recorded the other day the retirement of two officers, Detective William McDonald and Constable Andrew Wilchinski, after long years of excellent service, some few words found occasion to reflect what Edmonton and Edmonton people owed to these men and to those like them.

For it is not police forces as organizations that are important, but individual policemen. It is the man on the beat or the man in the office doing his job day after day who gives character to police work.

Intricate scientific organizations for combatting crime are useful and necessary in these days when the resources of new knowledge are available to those who war against society.

But no police force is stronger, in a moral way, than the man on the beat whose lot, as Gilbert observes, is not a happy one.

NOW THERE HAVE BEEN policemen, I suppose, since the very earliest days of organized society. Just as soon as men realized that there must be law to govern their relations with each other, they realized that there must be some form of agency to enforce that law.

And so we read of police officers in ancient Egypt, in Babylon, Assyria, Greece, Rome and in all subsequent civilizations.

Police organizations, however, did not spring into existence full-blown. At first, the policeman's work was done by the leading citizen. Whoever had most influence among his fellows, enjoyed their respect and confidence, took the lead in enforcing the law. He was a policeman by virtue of his qualities of leadership and his job was to induce the community to follow him in preventing crime, keeping the peace, preserving order and apprehending evil-doers.

THE POLICE TRADITION then is a dignified one. The legendary policeman is a leading citizen, a man trusted and respected and admired, a man who derives his authority from the confidence of the community.

The evolution of police work, however, developed in two diverse directions.

In some continental European countries, the old police tradition of leadership gave way to police force became a gang of bullies employed to carry out the will of tyrants.

Some of the Roman emperors had such forces. Napoleon Bonaparte created such a body under the notorious Fouche.

Police work probably reached its lowest level of degradation in the form of the Nazi Gestapo.

These were instances of the abuse of police authority or, rather, instances of the abuse of law.

BUT IF THE POLICE BECAME unparalleled instruments of cruelty and tyranny in some countries, they became unparalleled instruments of social usefulness in others.

It would be impossible to estimate how much society owes to P.C. Rawlings in some English village, to Officer Clancy in some small American town, to Constable Brown in some Canadian suburb who by their honesty and reliability create in the mind of every child who knows them a picture of the fundamental integrity of society and of the benign protection afforded by the law.

Children cannot think of these things in the abstract. But they do realize them in the concrete. And the big, safe, kindly policeman becomes the symbol of the instincts of humanity at their best.

The policeman's lot is not a happy one. But it is a useful one. A wholesome one and one to which society is deeply and constantly indebted

Believe It or Not

New York's Snow

By PAUL GALLICO

NEW YORK.—Well, I declare! I never did see such a fuss made over a little bitty old snow that happened to fall on our town a week or so ago. Why, lands sakes to goodness! You would have thought we were some little old country village instead of the biggest and richest and smartest city in the whole big old United States.

Why, Heavens to Betsy! If we didn't just have the shouting hysterics like nobody didn't ever have any snow fall on theirselves before and the Mayor he flew home all the way from California to be with us during the calamity so nobody could say when he came to run for office again that he didn't have the calamity too, and they put his picture in the papers getting out of an airplane, and I'd like to know what good that did because the next morning there was just as much snow cluttering up our streets only it was a little dirtier and he might just as well have stayed in California and kept on sunning himself.

GRACIOUS SAKES ALIVE! WE only had a twenty-five inch fall which was supposed to be some sort of record, bigger than the blizzard of '88 that my pappy used to tell me about, which is just an inch over two feet, which don't come more than a little bit above my knee, and if you call that a lot of snow to get excited about, why then I'd like to know. Why, up in Minneapolis and St. Paul, and Quebec, and Montreal, and Duluth, and other places like that, it sometimes falls four feet and they don't let on and holler and like to have themselves a nervous breakdown.

Darned if our city wasn't stone dead for 24 hours with not a wheel turning, with cars stuck in the streets and parks, all snowed in and getting their photograph printed in the papers, and, my stars, if we're so wonderful about making machinery, why don't we make automobiles that will keep on running even if there is a little bit of snow and not start slipping and sliding and spinning around, or folding up and dying wherever they happen to be? What I always say is that here we are bragging and boasting about our wonderful civilization and the gadgets we have and the know-how and then along comes a little old two feet of snow, hardly enough to get a town like Shelby, Montana, or Rugby, North Dakota, even wet and all our wonderful automobiles and trucks and buses pack up.

AND THEN THERE WAS them there newspaper fellers like to had a conniption fit over that there little bitty old snow, writing up big headlines in their newspapers saying "SNOW," when all you had to do was look out your window to see it was snow, and making up stories to show where our snow was more and better and bigger than anybody else's snow. In fact, it didn't just snow snow, it snowed something they called a crisis that was blocking the streets, but, I swan, if it didn't look just like anybody else's snow to me, except it was a lot blacker.

Why, Great Jehosaphat! If I was them fellers I wouldn't even call attention to what kind of pigs some people are in our town, people who go to spending a tarnation of money every winter to take a train ride up North to where they can find some snow to play in, so when the Good Lord gives em a nice little old flurry of clean snow right on their front doorstep, darned if they don't go to dumping the garbage in it and trying to set fire to it, only everybody knows you can't burn orange skins, artichoke leaves and old caviar jars, so it just lays out there in the streets in front of the houses and reks fit to make everyone sick, and if that's civilization, I swan to goodness I don't know what we're all coming to.

What do you suppose would happen if it really snowed some day in our town?

Bulletin Readers Say:

MEANS TEST

Editor, Bulletin — Recently you published a very interesting letter, in which the writer pleaded for the removal of the means test, and other obstructions in the way of obtaining the old age pension.

Your correspondent gave examples of how the present inflation (encouraged by our government) has decreased the value of small fixed incomes by almost 50 percent.

I am sure that many older citizens are looking apprehensively at the whirlpool of rising prices, and wondering how they are going to make their 1920 incomes meet the 1948 prices.

Some of our leading politicians, with high salaries plus, should try living on these small fixed incomes for a while, but they are not even interested in the welfare of their older citizens, and to these I say look after the needs of the Canadian people before you extend your generosity abroad.

Old citizens should be given the old age pension at 70 years of age, without means test, and as a right to which their past services to our country has entitled them.

The present government have done well in many ways, but their old age pension policy has not kept pace with their inflation policy. For instance they increased the old age pension by $5 a month immediately afterwards removed price controls, thus converting their picayune increase into a minus quantity.

SCOTTISH PARTY

Editor, Bulletin—Some of your Scottish readers have heard of the Scottish National Party but it is possible that others have not, and what has been heard may, or may not have been of good report.

Briefly, the objective of this party is to secure the fullest measure of self-government for Scotland, within the Commonwealth of British Nations. This includes the full control of home affairs and of its defence forces consistent with its obligations towards a collective system of international security.

The Scottish National Party is neither Communist, Fascist, anti-Semitic, anti-British, pro-Catholic, anti-English Commonalty, a party of landowners, nor does it receive any support, financial or otherwise, from any one of these sources, or, in fact, from any other vested interest groups; all of which does not mean that it is merely a party of strawmen.

The Scottish National Party is a purely democratic party, which puts Scotland in the forefront of all its activities, and within its ranks are to be found members of all shades of political opinion, who subordinate these beliefs to a greater ideal—the freedom of Scotland from alien control. The party has no more than its fair share of cranks, and is pledged to the democratic way of life.

It may be considered that the interests of Scotland are already adequately represented under the present British political party system, but this is not so; in the Parliament of Westminster sometimes referred to under the rather grandiose title of the Imperial Parliament, a form of representation is permanently loaded against her with 74 Scottish members of mixed political opinion, to 541 English members who, therefore, in a permanent minority of 8 to 1, with the result that she has become the milch cow of imperially minded England. The situation is further confused by the outstanding strife over the vote-catching promises of varying measures of devolution, which are never met by the London controlled political parties. After a long period of years of this type of verbal warfare, the time has arrived for some decision to be made to obtain for our country, by every legitimate means, her rightful place as an ancient and honorable nation, and to permit her citizens to develop freely and democratically, by their own control, the development of their country.

To do this we seek the sympathy and support of our kith and kin overseas. Many Scots will have both sweet and bitter memories of their beloved homeland. Some will remember the happy homes they left behind them, whilst others will think of the "clearances" and enforced emigration, but let us all join hands now. To fight every constituency in Scotland at the next General Election, would cost in money, a minimum sum of £11,000, and this the National Party has not got. May we remind you of the story of "The Seven Men of Moidart" and point out that it indicates the way for the return of the Exile to help, take over and raise the Scottish Standard.

The writers will be pleased to hear from your readers and to forward copies of the Party Policy and other literature, on request.

The Coming Russian Terror

By Stanislaw Mikolajczyk

Former Prime Minister of Poland and President of the Polish Peasant Party

Copyright 1948, King Features Syndicate, Inc., and The Edmonton Bulletin

Installment IV

In this the fourth installment of his story, "The Coming Russian Terror", Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, the Polish leader who fled from Warsaw ahead of Stalin's secret police, tells of the march into Hungary through Red Army lines, internment and escape to join the free Poles gathering in France under General Sikorski. —EDITOR.

Russia might have disposed of me as long ago as September, 1939, and saved itself such subsequent embarrassment as I have been able to impose as an official of a Poland whose love of freedom remains unquenched.

FOR ON SEPTEMBER 18, as what was left of the Polish Army unit to which I was attached headed for the Hungarian border, to escape being pocketed between the ever-closing German and Russian forces, a group of us in trucks and light cars ran into a column of Red Army tanks in a little Polish town near the border.

But for some reason which I'll never understand, they permitted us to pass, though we were completely at their mercy. The Russian heads which protruded from the open hatches of the tanks seemed unable to comprehend that we were Poles. They were perhaps not too bright, for as we passed by the tank column—expecting every moment to be blasted into eternity—several of the Red Army men saluted us.

And so we moved into Hungary and were interned at Camp Hangony with perhaps 4,000 assorted officers and men—ragged symbols of unpreparedness.

OUR ONLY THOUGHT, now that we were still alive, was to reform our lines and somehow hurl back a punch at the Germans and Russians who were calmly erasing Poland from the map of Europe by dividing it in half along a line agreed to by Ribbentrop and Molotov.

The morale of the Poles in Internment was as low as that of a military man can get. And, in the hope of raising it, I started a tiny camp newspaper—the news for which was supplied by a sympathetic Hungarian, a retired colonel, who lived near our camp and permitted me—with the consent of the Hungarian prison authorities—to listen to his radio.

But, inevitably, the paper was banned and for the remainder of my career as a "publisher" in that camp, I was forced to make verbal reports of what was happening to our homeland and the world.

ONE ITEM OF NEWS aroused our camp as none other, for it held out a promise that we might renew the fight for our homeland. General Sikorski had escaped to France and, with the help of the French and British, was forming a new Polish armed force.

President Mosciecki and his Government had also managed to escape but had been interned in Bucharest. Thus stripped of his ability to carry on the functions of government, Mosciecki appointed an old Pilsudski-Beck politician, Wieniawa Dlugoszewski, as President—an act which was permissible under the reshaped constitution which Pilsudski and Beck had inflicted on Poland in 1935.

France refused to recognize Dlugoszewski, who was Polish ambassador to Italy, and Mosciecki was then forced to name a second choice, Wladyslav Raczkiewicz, who was in Paris and acceptable to the Quai D'Orsay. Raczkiewicz took office and agreed to appoint General Sikorski his Prime Minister.

MY EVERY THOUGHT was to break out of Camp Hangony and join Sikorski in France. But I was only one. We all shared that desire, and it fell to my lot to put the plan into effect.

Because I was permitted to go frequently to the home of the Hungarian colonel for news reports the job was made a bit easier.

First I had to secure civilian clothes, which the colonel provided for me. I let it be known around the camp that I had come down with typhus, which would account for my absence from my daily newscasts in the main compound, and allay suspicion. Then I slipped into my new clothes and walked out the gate.

I knew only one word of Hungarian, the word for "Good Evening," and I had to travel 300 miles to Budapest to secure the funds and support needed for what we hoped would be a mass evacuation of our camp.

I USED THAT LONELY word of mine to greet the guard on the camp gate through which I passed, and all might have gone well, but he turned out to be in want of someone to talk to. He began asking me a stream of questions and when I was able to answer only "Good Evening" or nothing at all, his suspicions erupted. He flashed a light in my face.

I ran, and was saved from being shot in the back by a sheer act of Providence which even a motion picture scenarist might find trouble conjuring.

Hundreds of workers happened to be streaming into the village that bordered our camp. I ran this way and that among the crowd, something like an American football player, and the guard was afraid to shoot for fear of killing one of the workers.

ONCE THROUGH THE crowd, I threw myself into the dirt of a dark field and tried not to breathe when guards swept by on their bicycles, their lights sweeping the road and gullies.

I lay there an hour, then walked 12 miles to the nearest railroad station at God, bought a ticket (I spoke German) and started for Budapest. I was sure the trains would be watched, so I slumped down into the corner of a third-class compartment, pretended to be drunk and sleepy. I had stretched my "Good Evenings" too thin.

The train reached Budapest at 8a the next morning, but when I arrived at our Legation in that city, two Hungarian policemen guarded the door. I kept walking and checked into a hotel, where I was immediately visited by the police.

SOMEHOW, I WAS ABLE to convince them that I had not escaped from an internment camp, that I was a Polish political refugee who wanted only to see someone in authority at his Legation.

The Police promised to escort me there the next morning, and then I realized, to my great annoyance, that this was Sunday. The Legation was closed and I faced the task of remaining at liberty for 24 additional hours.

But at last Monday morning arrived, and I was at the Legation virtually at sun-up. The Polish colonel who received me thanked me for offering to Poland hundreds of trained airmen, infantrymen, mobile warriors and technicians, but he said quite coolly that our camp would have to await its turn. Other camps also were providing troops to renew the fight.

But I convinced him that we must have a priority, because of our youth and eagerness to get to France, and in the end he gave me enough money to buy a Leica camera and film, told me to make my way back to Camp Hangony, take as many "passport" pictures as I could, and deliver them to him. Then he would go to work on spurious passports which would enable the men to leave without too much of an offence to the neutral Hungarian government.

I DID GET BACK, selected 700 men, photographed them surreptitiously, and made a deal with a patriotic and very brave Jewish merchant to supply clothes and trucks for us at much less than their cost.

Then I worked my way back to the Legation and it was while we were making our final preparations to leave that I received one day an ordinary postal card from the Legation, plainly telling me that Sikorski had received my urgent messages and wanted me to join him in France. If the card had not been handled by a camp post-mistress who was a good friend of mine, and had instead fallen into the hands of the camp officials, I would have been kept there and eventually turned over to the German and probably placed in slave labor.

But we got out. My own passport portrayed me as a "technical worker under 18 years of age."

WE GOT ALL THE WAY to the Yugoslav border where were 28 or 30 in my particular group—before we were stopped. We were ordered back to Budapest by the Yugoslav guards. They put us on a train headed back toward internment.

But 16 of us jumped off the train after a few miles, walked on foot to the border, and rowed across the Drawa River in a fishing boat we appropriated.

There were a few stray shots at us in midstream. But we reached land, made our way to Zagreb, thence to Italy and finally France.

I REPORTED immediately to Sikorski. I was a private, he a general. I stood at attention, gave my name (we were very old friends) and told him I wanted to go on with the fight to free our country.

He smiled and then threw his arms around me. A new phase of my life was opening.

Antarctic Bound Ship Sails on Lonely Trip

LONDON, Jan. 8.—(CP)—The motorship John Biscoe has sailed for the antarctic from London bound on an annual voyage like that performed by the old Nascopie in the Canadian arctic at the other end of the world.

THE JOHN BISCOE will call at lonely meteorological stations as supply ship for the Falkland Islands dependencies survey. She will bring back scientists and observers who for 12 months have been stationed at posts like in Graham Land, South Shetlands, South Orkneys, Southwest Graham Land, Argentine Islands and Admiralty Bay.

Investigations are being conducted into the possibility of weather forecasting with particular attention to the development and movement of antarctic depressions. Extensive geological and biological collections have been made and research is conducted into human adaption to low temperatures.

THE SURVEY WAS started in December, 1943, by Cmdr. J. W. S. Marr, who was succeeded as commander in the following year by a Canadian, Capt. (later Major) Andrew Taylor, Royal Canadian Engineers, of Winnipeg who was loaned for this duty, and later returned to Canada. In December, 1945, control of the survey was given the colonial office. Maj. (Ft. S. Pierce-Butler has command of the present expedition.

The John Biscoe was named after an explorer who was making voyages of discovery in the antarctic more than 100 years ago. She was used as a netlayer with the Royal Navy during the war.

She is of 1,200 tons and is wooden hulled, considered as an asset when a ship is used in the ice-fields.

The ship carries an airplane which will be used in scientific studies among the southern ice.

Seek Provincial Labor Mediation

WINNIPEG, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Unable to agree on wage demands for 1,600 tram workers, the Winnipeg Electric Co., and the One Big Union were disclosed yesterday to have referred the question to the provincial department of labor.

W. H. Carter, company president, said pay increases sought by the union would amount to nearly 40 cents an hour, costing an additional $2,000,000 annually, when consideration was taken of requests for overtime pay and other factors.

The union has asked for a pay boost of 27 cents an hour.

W. Elliott Wilson, deputy labor minister, said it was not clear whether jurisdiction resided with the province or the Dominion government. He said that since the company has a power line running into Ontario it operated on an inter-provincial basis.

Quebec Province Wants Autonomy

QUEBEC, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Premier Maurice Duplessis last night told a rally of his cabinet and Union Nationale party members, Quebec should be independent of Ottawa "but always ready to co-operate with Ottawa when it is in the interest of the province."

The premier, speaking to the Renaissance Club at an annual dinner meeting held before the opening of the legislature, said "We should remain in the provincial domain in order to obtain from whoever is in power at Ottawa the respect of our rights."

During the rally, party supporters tacked onto one wall of the club a placard which read: "1948 our watchword year of triumph for provincial autonomy."

Urgent Problems Face Canada-U.S.

CALGARY, Jan. 8. — (CP)— Three urgent problems face Canada and the United States in 1948 if peace and prosperity are to be maintained, Dr. Cyril F. James, principal and vice-chancellor of McGill University said in an interview last night.

The two countries must extend generous credits and restrict consumption to aid the reconstruction of Europe and Asia; domestic inflation in Canada and the U.S. must be curbed; and "we should increase facilities for the study of Russian language, law, political organization and philosophy."

Stole Toy Guns

CALGARY, Jan. 8.—(CP)—W. D. Loseby of Calgary reported to police yesterday that $7.80 worth of toy revolvers and pistols were stolen from a warehouse he used for novelties and electrical fixtures. Police said they did not think juveniles were responsible and that the stolen guns looked like their real lethal counterparts.

Police Raids Fail To Stop Gambling

VANCOUVER, Jan. 8.—(CP)—The Vancouver Sun said yesterday that gambling operations have not stopped here despite vigorous police raids in the last month.

It claimed that bookmakers have resumed operations on a scale that approaches an all-time peak, with betting on horse races a major diversion, and dice and card games flourishing.

"The boys who know will tell you it has never been easier to wager in the downtown district than it is right now," the newspaper said.

A warning was issued to bookmakers yesterday by Magistrate MacKenzie Matheson. Jail cells await them.

He sentenced Jeffery Bolt and Bert Gall to two months in jail without option of a fine. They pleaded guilty to keeping a betting house.

The place was described as a "clearing house" for downtown gamblers.

SPORTS

HAROLD DEAN, Sports Editor

LIGHTNING may not strike twice in the same place, but the injury jinx now has hit Edmonton Flyers three times during the last four games. First it was Johnny Black in the session here with Lethbridge on Dec. 26, then "Pug" Young at Calgary on Saturday and now, Louis Holmes.

The mishap to Louis resulted from a collision with Hergert late in the Tuesday night affair with Stampeders, but the full extent of the injury was not known until yesterday, when the x-ray disclosed the shoulder separation. It looks like at least a 10-day layoff.

Loss of Holmes not only reduces the Flyer roster to eight forwards and four defencemen—it means Coach Frank Currie will be without his ace-in-the-hole. Louis has been the Edmonton club's handy-man—a fourth forward for power plays, invaluable for killing off penalties and always ready to take his regular turn on his own line. There seems little doubt that Holmes has been the real spark-plug of the team.

League Race Now Scramble

REGINA'S 6-2 win over Lethbridge Maple Leafs last night was not unexpected. It also got Johnny Sofiak, former Edmonton Canadian junior, off on his right foot in regular senior league competition—he was with Flyers for three playoff games against Leafs last spring and should help Caps.

However, the victory for Regina did very little to ease off the tension caused by the hectic scramble for playoff spots in the western senior circuit which has developed during recent weeks.

Flyers and Quakers both had their sad moments when nothing seemed to go just right and during that time all seemed serene for Sweeney Schriner's club. Now Leafs are on the skids, but they'll probably snap out of it, and Edmonton and Saskatoon, after taking turns at batting down the leaders, are both within striking distance of Stamps and Caps.

Battle of Goalies May Develop

QUAKERS, only two points from Flyers and boasting a string of seven straight, will be here tomorrow and the prospect is that a battle of goalies will be an extra attraction. Ken McAuley, former Flyer, has been piping hot in recent starts and Al Rollins possesses the sharpest goals-average in the loop.

Although absence of Young, Holmes and Black is bound to be a handicap for Flyers, Coach Currie still has two complete lines, plus Smitten and Pringle, to toss against the visitors. Elmer Kreller appears to have regained his scoring touch and works in well with Morey Rimstad and Billy Maher, while the Anderson-Clovechock-Merluk line is proving the league's New Year's surprise number. This trio picked up five points Tuesday and seemed to befuddle Stamps every time out.

Gordon Buttrey's work on defence Tuesday made a good impression and on Friday he'll be operating against some of his old team-mates. Captain Gordon Watts, the circuit's highest-scoring defenceman, Bill Pettinger and big Bud McPherson, who is improving rapidly, also will be on the job. All Flyers excepting Young, Black and Holmes attended last night's workout.

Urges Minors Check Releases

JIM PYPER, secretary of the co-ordinating committee of the four city athletic clubs, advises that all junior, juvenile and midget players who have changed teams in the past season should investigate their status. EDHA regulations require all releases to be signed by the president and secretary and approved by the executive.

Official opening of Ponoka's new ice arena is scheduled for tomorrow night at 7:45 o'clock and Riley Mullen will have his Stampeders on display in a league game immediately following.

Answering a query from Nordegg—when Joe Louis knocked out Max Schmeling (June 22, 1938), Joe's heavyweight title was at stake. The kayo came in the first round . . . and passing along a tid-bit of information asked by an Edmonton hockey fan—Flyers defeated Stampeders at Calgary 1-0 on February 8, 1947, for their only win on Stampeder ice last season. They had tied 4-4 the previous Dec. 18.

Ewell Blackwell Signs With Reds

CINCINNATI, Jan. 8. — (AP) — Long, lean Ewell Blackwell, whose whip-like arm made him the best right-handed pitcher in baseball last year, yesterday signed a contract with Cincinnati Reds for 1948.

Terms of the contract were not announced by Warren Giles, president of the Reds, but it was apparent from a statement he made that Blackwell had been given a substantial boost in pay. Cincinnati sports writers guessed the salary would be between $20,000 and $25,000.

BLACKWELL in 1947 won 16 games in a row, pitched a no-hitter and came back a few days later to get wtihin two putouts of another when Brooklyn bats exploded for two safeties

He ended the year a tired pitcher but with a record of 22 games won and eight lost. He led all moundmen in strikeouts with 193.

"Blackie told me he is very happy witn the salary arrangements we worked out," Giles said in a statement.

Blackwell, 26, is six feet, five inches tall and his playing weight is 185 pounds. The coming season will be his third with the Reds.

RCAF Olympic Team Ready For All Comers

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Prime for battle on foreign ice against all comers, Canada's Olympic Hockey team, the R.C.A.F. Flyers, basked in send-off glory last night.

But whether or not the Flyers return to Canada next April with the Olympic gravy, Canadian can thank two intermediate teams in Ottawa and Toronto for donating the material to build a spirited, potentially-classy team which experts here say will do credit to the Dominion.

THE TWO TEAMS—New Edinburghs of the Ottawa City League and Barkers Biscuits of Toronto's Varsity Major Series, sacrificed probable victory in their respective circuits to assure the Olympic club of a solid outfit.

About a fortnight ago, when Flyers played McGill Redmen in a blaze of publicity glory and went down to shabby defeat, the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association stepped in and agreed with R.C.A.F officials that Canada had a crisis on its hands.

WITH LITTLE time to lose, the Flyers took over the best front line of Ottawa New Edinburghs and two other of the team's best players. Burghs, r[illegible]ing high at the time, haven't won a game since.

Barker's contributed Wally Halder, an N.H.L. prospect who remained amateur for business reasons, and another player.

Since Halder left, Barkers have slipped to second place in their league.

WITH THEIR equipment already en route, the Flyers will leave here today for New York, sailing on the Queen Elizabeth Friday. They'll get a chance to whip into shape in exhibition contests at London, Brighton, Paris and Davos, Switzerland. After the Olympic trials they have a lengthy tour ahead.

Yesterday, the Flyers were feted at a luncheon. The deputy air member for personnel, D. E. (Dave) MacKell, was host, and Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, chief of the air staff, wished the boys Godspeed.

Stewart Should Stick to Hockey

DETROIT, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Fifteen members of the Detroit Red Wings National Hockey League club appeared in traffic court yesterday to lend "moral support" to the defence of 20-year-old defenceman Leonard (Red) Kelly.

Kelly, charged with making an improper left turn while driving, listened with dismay as his fellow defenceman, Jack Stewart, acted as defence counsel.

Stewart's questions and apparent lack of legal knowledge prompted Judge John Watts to tell Kelly: "You had better get another attorney before you go to jail. This man (Stewart) sounds more like a prosecutor."

Kelly was convicted, but sentence was suspended.

Army-Navy and Products

Two Pee Wee Sextets Remain Undefeated

Army and Navy and McGregor Products remained the only unbeaten sextets in the Maple Leaf Athletic Clubs Pee Wee Hockey League as a result of triumphs last night.

In keeping their slates clean, Army and Navy knocked over Stinsons 8-1 on the 101 street sheet, and McGregor Products nosed out Flyers 3-2 at Eastwood. In a third game, Canadian Legion and W. W. Arcade fought to a nip-and-tuck 4-4 deadlock.

THE MORRISSEY twins — Bob and Charlie — and Cliff Melnyk sparked Army and Navy to victory, netting a pair of goals apiece. Singletons came from the sticks of Ron Savage and Don Jones. Don Webb came up with the only marker for the "bakers".

Allan Olson led Products to their slim one-goal edge over Flyers, bulging the hemp for a brace of markers. Len Lunde was the other scorer for the winners, while Roy Shandro and George Ruptash counted for the losers.

PLAYING ON THE Eastwood rink, the Legionaires and Arcades tossed everything they had into the fight, but try as they did, no player could break the 4-4 deadlock.

Ralph Johannson, 2, and Ken Diffley and Gil Langlois were marksmen for Canadian Legion, while Jack Mellon with a pair, and Bob Cordingly and Harry Slodibnyk polished off the scoring for Arcade.

Groves Nets Goal For Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Scoring three goals in the opening period, Kansas City Pla-Mors last night defeated St. Paul Saints 6-4 in a United States Hockey League game. Kansas City markers were divided among Harry Groves, Dick Butler, Frank Ashworth, Bill Mitchell, Jack Miller and Doug Baldwin, while the St. Paul goals went to Gino Rozzini, Gus Schwartz, Bob Dill and Mitch Pechet.

South Side juniors will hold a workout at the arena immediately following tonight's junior game between EACs and Canadians.

Queen Elizabeth received thte first wrist watch in 1572.

PRAGUE, Jan. 8—(CP)—It was early to bed and the alarm clock set for 5 a.m. for Barbara Ann Scott, women's world figure-skating champion from Ottawa, who arrived yesterday by plane from Switzerland to prepare for the defence of her European figure-skating crown Jan. 13 to 15.

Miss Scott planned to be on the ice at the Winter Stadium by 6 a.m. It is dark in Prague at that hour but Stadium authorities promised to have the rink illuminated.

Accompanied by her mother and her trainer, Sheldon Galbraith, Miss Scott received a warm welcome at Ruzyne Airport.

"IT IS NICE to be among old friends again," she said as she unpacked at the Opera hotel, a small hotel near the Stadium which is internationally known to ice skaters.

Among those who greeted the world champion were Jirina Nekolova, former Czechoslovak women's figure-skating champion, and Dr. Vladimir Koudelka, one of the leading Czech coaches. Miss Nekolova, who was a guest of Miss Scott in Canada, brought the Ottawa girl a bouquet and kisses were exchanged.

BARBARA ANN said the early practice would give her a chance to use the entire rink, instead of the smaller practice surface, before the rink is opened for public skating.

Intermediate B

The following three City Intermediate "B" Hockey League fixtures are slated for tonight: Eastwood at Highlands, Utility Sales at Air Force, and LaFleche at Cloverdale. The Army sextet, which participated in a few games this season, has pulled out of the league.

Mercurys Run Bears Back to Woods, 10-2

Bill Dawe Sets Dazzling Pace With Six Points

The smooth-skating Mercurys, apparently well lubricated in every joint, breezed to a 10-2 victory over the lowly Varsity Golden Bears in a speedy Northern Alberta Intermediate Hockey League contest last night.

The result left the Mercurys 14 points up on their nearest rivals, the Camrose Maroons, while it was the ninth straight time the Bears had met their "Waterloo".

AGAIN it was the old firm of Dawe, Darling and Allen who made life miserable for the Bruins. Bill Dawe collected no less than six points with two goals and four assists; Marsh Darling came through with two of each, and Harry Allen flashed the green light twice and helped to turn it on on another occasion. Bob David notched a couple, while Dodds and Waring marked up singles.

Dave Ellis scored both Varsity goals, with Hardy and Ringrose being credited with assists.

COACH Frank Coulson's boys gave one of their smoothest performances of the season, clicking on rink-wide passes with monotonous regularity and finishing off their plays in masterly fashion.

The Bears didn't go down without offering a stern battle however. They swarmed around the Waterloo goal on numerous attacks, but got away few clean shots at Don Murray, or else found the Mercury custodian equal to their efforts.

MERCURYS ran up a 4-0 score in the first period, increased it to 7-0 in the second and outscored the desperate Bears 3-2 in the closing frame.

Strange as it may seem, Jefferies played an outstanding game in the Varsity cage. In the third period, particularly he kept his citadel clear of rubber half a dozen times when opposing players broke away from power plays and coasted right in on him.

Dodds started the Mercurys rolling at the eight-minute mark on a neat solo effort and then Darling and Dawe clicked after a passing bout, with the latter finding the hemp behind Jefferies. Harry Allen, with Dawe and Darling lending a helping hand, made it 3-0 and Bob David planted the sphere into the twine just before the period ended, Don Gauf setting up the play.

BEARS kept Murray hopping in the centre frame, but couldn't get a sustained attack under way. It was a see-saw battle till the halfway mark when Darling took a pass from Gauf and made no mistake and less than a minute later Bob David fired Jimmy King's relay into the cage.

Smart clearing inside their own blue line kept the Mercury goalie well protected and Allen, with Dawe carrying the puck in, added to the Bears' misery.

IT WASN'T till after the Mercurys had made it 9-0 early in the third with Waring and Dawe beating Jefferies, that the Bears got on the score-board. They got their first marker at the 13:35 mark, Dave Ellis rifling a partially screened shot past Murray from 20 feet out. Ellis had a golden opportunity to repeat a minute later when the Mercurys were trapped and he had only Murray to beat. Murray rose to the occasion.

Ellis had Murray's number a few minutes later, slamming in a relay from Ringrose, but before the final horn blew Dawe combined with Allen for the 10th Waterloo marker.

Faltering Leafs Lose 6-2

Regina Again Moves Into Leadership Tie

REGINA, Jan. 8—(CP)—Regina Capitals climbed back into a first-place tie with Calgary Stampeders in the Western Canada Senior Hockey League last night by virtue of a 6-2 win over the lowly Lethbridge Maple Leafs.

The win left Caps and Stamps on top of the league with 33 points each, five more than the third place Edmonton Flyers and seven more than Saskatoon Quakers. Lethbridge is low team in the five-club loop with 22 points.

BILL KYLE and Ab McDougall shared scoring honors for the winners, each scoring twice and assisting on another couple. Lou Hauck and Joe Fisher got singles.

Roy Heximer and Grant Hall tallied for Leafs, Steve Latoski getting an assist on both goals.

The game saw Regina take a 2-0 lead in the first period, stay on even terms in the second which ended with the count 3-1, and move ahead in the third for the final 6-2 score.

THE FIRST 10 minutes produced tough, even hockey with neither team having a good scoring chance. Then Gus Kyle went off for interference but Lethbridge could not get its passing organized during its two-minute one-man advantage.

Both Regina goals of the period trickled in off Leafs' defencemen while they were trying to clear. On the first goal Toby Brown took the puck away from a Lethbridge defenceman, passed to Hauck, whose shot went in off Stan Maxwell.

THE SECOND counter came after a rushing play, Bill Kyle taking a double pass from Norm Grinke and Bill Van Deelan, his drive slipping by Leaf rearguard Bill Boorman who fanned at it but missed.

Regina continued pressing as the period neared its close, Mallie Hughes being called on to make several close saves.

LETHBRIDGE checked hard in the second period, but lacked offensive punch, with Caps' almost counting several times on power plays.

At the 8:30 mark, however, Heximer took a pass from Latoski and scored for the Alberta club on a long, screened shot which Johnny Sofiak never saw. The former Winnipeg Black Hawks' junior goalie was playing his first game with Regina after having secured Canadian Amateur Hockey Association permission for the transfer.

REGINA EQUALIZED the count three minutes later, McDougall taking a pass from Bill Kyle and Van Deelan while skating at full speed and tipped the puck past Hughes.

Lethbridge picked up offensively towards the end of the period but couldn't master Caps defence.

The Leaf attack was carried over into the third period, Hall catching the corner of the Regina net with a perfect shot from half-way to the blueline on Latoski's pass one second before the two-minute mark.

BUT WHEN RALPH Luke went off for Lethbridge for holding, Caps rapped in two fast goals. Fisher hit the corner with his shot and McDougall scored on a power play.

A previously clean game then showed signs of roughing up, with several tangles in corners and along boards. Gus Kyle went off for slashing but brother Bill scored Caps' final counter on a rush with McDougall and Vic Myles.

Lethbridge—Hughes; Luke, Grey; Heximer; Hall Latoski. Subs: Menzies, Kirkpatrick, Taggart, Maxwell, Nordin, Boorman, Simpson, Thomas.

Regina—Sofiak; Grinke, Gus Kyle; Bill Kyle; McDougall, Van Deelan. Subs: Barnes, Wilkie, Fisher, Brown, Hauck, Fairburn, Staseson, Myles.

Officials—Vic Lindquist; Gordon Porter, Chick Little.

SUMMARY

First Period: 1—Regina, Hauck (Brown) 11:31; 2—Regina, B. Kyle (Grinke, Van Deelan) 16:21. Penalty—Gus Kyle.

Second Period: 3—Lethbridge, Heximer (Latoski) 8:36; 4—Regina, McDougall (Bill Kyle, Van Deelan) 11:32. Penalty—Kirkpatrick.

Third Period: 5—Lethbridge, Hall (Latoski) 1:59; 6—Regina, Fisher (McDougall, Bill Kyle) 7:42; 7—Regina, McDougall (Fisher, Barnes) 8:06; 8—Regina, Bill Kyle (McDougall, Myles) 18:20. Penalties—Luke, Gus Kyle.

Pats Whip Pandas 40-16

Starlets Win Sixth Straight Hoop Tilt

Art Skitch's smooth-passing Starlets and Clare Hollingsworth's Pats continued along the unbeaten path in the City Ladies' Basketball League last night, Starlets whipping Mortons "B" 38-31, and Pats romping through Varsity Pandas 40-16 in a twin bill at the Eastwood gym.

The Starlet quintet, paced by Joyce Weastell who flipped 10 points through the mesh, chalked up their sixth-straight triumph by flashing to an early lead over the understaffed Morton lassies.

CLINGING TO AN 8-7 margin in the opening half, Starlets extended the lead to 20-12 in the second, 32-20 in the third, and then stayed off a desperate Mortons rally in the final frame.

Other top-notchers for Starlets were Pat Stephens—currently showing the way in the individual scoring race — and Camille Hodgins, who pushed eight and seven points through the hoop respectively. Nancy Mayson was the sniping star for the losers, sinking 13 points, while Clare Cornelius notched nine.

IN WALTZING to their third-straight win of the season, Pats, Alberta intermediate champions last season, out-scored the winless Varsity crew in every quarter. By frames Pats were out-front 10-2, 7-6, 14-3 and 9-5.

Eleanor McIntosh, Phyllis Cox and Dorothy Allan packed the scoring punch for the winners, sinking 13, 10 and eight points respectively. Marie Schwarz was the sniping ace for Pandas with five points.

Calgary Rink Posts Single Nipawin Upset

NIPAWIN, Jan. 8—(CP)—A crowd of almost 2,800 watched favorites, with one exception, triumph in opening rounds of the $23,000 Nipawin automobile bonspiel here Wednesday. But the favorites didn't have too easy a time.

Jimmy Welsh of Winnipeg, dominion curling champion in 1947, took his rink here against Lou Mitchell of St. Benedict, Sask., easily enough, however, winning 12-7 in his first appearance on ice here.

Ken Thorpe, Saskatoon entrant, outscored Ray Chambers, Yorkton 11-9 in a match which the lead changed hands several times.

E. B. (OLE) OLSON, Edmonton, defeated J. G. Hornsby, North Battleford, in his first match.

Billy Rose's Sedgewick rink, skipped by Lloyd McIntyre of Viking, lost out 12-11 to L. H. Campbell, Avonlea, in 13 ends.

Howard Wood of Winnipeg, last year's winner of the 'spiel's major prize of four automobiles, defeated W. A. Young of Carlyle, Sask. 15-10 after an exceptionally close battle which saw the southern Saskatchewan rink overcome an early lead only to falter after the 10th end.

Leo Johnson of Winnipeg, another of the main threats at the bonspiel, had an equally tough battle with veteran Aubrey Cochrane of Shaunavon. After being tied at the seventh, he got the jump with four points on the eighth, however, and from there on held a lead to win 11-10.

THE LONE UPSET came in what was billed as the feature match of the draw when Bobby Alexander's Calgary quartet easily downed the powerful Billy McLeod rink of Winnipeg 11-3. The Albertans took a 6-0 lead after four ends and coasted home from there.

Bonspiel President Cliff McDonald posted a close 12-10 victory over clubmate H. Konnor while another crowd-favorite, an all-Chinese rink skipped by George Hong of Kelvington, was not as fortunate—losing 12-10 to Don Sinclair of Nipawin.

MANITOBA RINKS however did manage to salvage three victories as Crawford Hicks of Winnipeg defeated Norman Taylor of Lang, 9-8. Bill Cook of Brandon downed Walter Grayson of Nipawin 13-9 and C. N. Argue of Mather edged C. Gillis of Whitewood 11-10.

Alberta gained its second victory of the draw when F. Braithwaite of Dewberry chalked up a 14-11 triumph over Nipawin's C. L. Platt.

John Peters of Carrot River, Sask., became the first skip to score a 13-end victory when defeating Rene Lavoy, Sask. Peters scored seven points on the last four ends to tie the score before winning on the extra end.

PETE FORSYTHE of Brandon, Man., lost to Dr. H. E. McKeller of Carlyle, Sask., in the 1 p.m. draw, while Bert Richardson of Edmonton scored an easy win over George Furminger of Prince Albert, Sask.

Eddie Lonsmore of Flin Flon, Man., tied the score on the 11th and won on the 12th end against Stan Glover of Saskatoon, a former Saskatchewan champion.

One sided victories and a rather poor display of curling marked the 4 p.m. draw. It started on slow swingy ice but finished on a keen, fast surface as the temperature dropped after sunset.

A. D. McFADDEN of Lacombe, Alta., wasn't extended in turning back Joe Boschier of Prince Albert and the veteran Jack Brower of Langham, Sask., who skipped the Henderson rink in the final against Howard Wood here last winter, outscored C. B. Bohlken's Riceton, Sask., entry, 14-4.

Losers in the No. 1 draw Wednesday now move down into No. 2 event while the winners continue in No. 1 until defeated. A loss in No. 2 event automatically places the rink in No. 3 event and further loss drops the rink into the Consolation event, last chance for a skip to collect an award. Rinks reaching the fours in any of the first three events qualify for the round-robin playoff which eventually leads to the final playoff for the automobiles.

BEFORE PLAY opened Wednesday morning, a parade, led by the Nipawin and Melfort bands, welcomed the curlers with light Scottish airs as the kilted pipers swung along the main street to the rink. The presence of the pipers along with the bright sweaters of the curlers added a colorful touch to the ceremony.

Mayor William Botting, after presenting a key to the town to Howard Wood, as last year's winner, opened the 'spiel by throwing the first rock, which slid into the ring.

Shoots From Any Angle

Max's Scoring Skill Mystery Even to Doug

TORONTO, Jan. 8.—(CP)—You'd like to know how Max Bentley scores those amazing shots from any angle and position? Brother Doug, who has played with Max since he was old enough to toddle to an open-air rink in Delisle, Sask., has the answer: "I never could figure it out either."

Maybe it's a family secret, even though the famous brothers now are parted in National Hockey League company, but Doug, who still carries the load for Chicago Black Hawks, will tell you in all seriousness: "I've been wondering about that for years—that kid can grab a puck at the craziest angles and suddenly it's in."

WHEN TOLD that Max was now the most popular player on Toronto Maple Leafs lineup with the loud-voiced fans and that he'd figured in half of the Leafs' last 22 goals, Doug wasn't surprised. He said at the season outset before Hawks boss Bill Tobin traded Max he promised him an automobile if he won the scoring crown—"That'll be funny, Tobin giving Max a car for winning the title with another team."

Working out here with the Hawks in preparation for their Saturday contest with the Leafs, Doug revealed that Max and himself had been on four NHL lists before they were finally plucked by the Hawks.

DOUG TRIED OUT with the Leafs but didn't get the nod and then drilled with Boston Bruins who liked only big brothers from the list of New York Rangers in exchange for Vic Myles, a rugged defenceman from Moose Jaw, who never was an NHL standout.

Then the brothers tried out with Montreal Canadiens but Max went down with a heavy cold and the Habitants were so busy preparing for a tour they missed Doug's blazing speed. Next year Paul Thompson scouted Doug for the Hawks and when Chicago fans went wild, Doug remarked modestly: "You think I'm good, wait till you see my brother."

DOUG DOESN'T think present-day hockey is nearly as rough as when he turned pro with the Hawks in 1939 when "a little guy didn't have much chance." In those days all opponents seemed huge to Doug who weighed but 132 pounds, 18 pounds lighter than today.

As to reports that he's considering retirement, Doug figures he has two good seasons left. What about afterwards? Doug and Max spent $20,000 to build a frozen-food locker in Deslisle. Brother Roy is looking after it and the way it is going they won't have to worry when their legs give out.

Joe Krol Again Named Canada's Top Athlete

By FRASER MacDOUGALL

TORONTO, Jan 8.—(CP)—The career of Joe Krol, football's most dazzling opportunist, reached a fresh climax today with his selection by Canadian sports editors as Canada's outstanding athlete for the second successive year. He becomes the first double winner of the poll The Canadian Press inaugurated in 1932.

Krol, who hit the headlines only occasionally during the Big Four Football Union's scheduled season, provided the victory payoff punch that carried Toronto Argonauts through the post-schedule playoffs to their third consecutive dominion championship.

SPORTS EDITORS picked him as the athlete of the year over Maurice Richard, modern pro hockey's most prolific goal scorer, and footballer Bob Sandberg of Winnipeg Blue Bombers whose individual prowess overshadowed Krol's in the east-west football championship classic.

Krol received 39 of a possible 75 points in the poll in which 25 sports editors participated. Richard got 25 and Sandberg 19. Voters named first, second and third choices and points were figured on a 3-2-1 basis. Krol's selection was less emphatic than a year ago when he received 59 of a possible 75 points.

FOOTBALL STARS have won it five times—Kr-l twice, Hugh (Bummer) Stirling, Fritz Hanson and Tony Golab, marathon runners came out in front four times—Dave Komonen, Harold Webster, Scotty Rankine and Gerard Cote, Golfer Henry (Sandy) Somerville, hockeyist Syl Apps and track star Phil Edwards were the other winners.

Krol tallied 41 points in his 11 Big Four games during the scheduled season with the Argos, second highest scorer in the union. He rose to his greatest heights in the

Cleveland Barons Tie Scoring Mark

CLEVELAND, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Pete Leswick scored four goals, three of them in the first period, as Cleveland's Barons equalled their all-time scoring high in 19 years of pro hockey by burying Hershey Bears 12-1 in an American Hockey League game last night.

Leswick also counted two assists for a total of six points. Johnny Holota also picked up six points with two goals and four assists. Other Cleveland scorers were Solinger, with two, Kelly, Russell, Carse and Allen. Hershey's goal was by Bruce.

Suspend Jockey

ARCADIA, Calif., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Jockey Willie Garner yesterday was suspended for 30 days by the Santa Anita Park board of Stewards.

He was accused of rough riding on Miss Mommy, which finished fourth in the $50,000 Santa Susana stakes last Saturday.

playoffs and climaxed it all by booting the game-winning point on the last play of the game in the east-west final.

RICHARD, great right wing of Montreal Canadiens, scored 45 goals last season to bring his total in five years of National Hockey League play to 159 in 212 games.

Sandberg, native of Rice Lake, Wis., and former University of Minnesota footballer, became an outstanding star in his first season in Canadian football. He won the most valuable player award in the western interprovincial union and capped that with a dazzling show in the east-west game.

New Yorkers Shutout 6-0

Wings Fly Into Lead By Blanking Rangers

DETROIT, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Detroit Red Wings rode a five-game winning streak into first place in the National Hockey League here last night by trouncing the third place New York Rangers 6-0, before 12,356 cash customers.

Harry Lumley, Detroit's apple-cheeked 21-year-old goaltender, turned back 20 Ranger shots to record his fourth shutout victory of the year and climb into a tie with Turk Broda of Toronto for the league leadership among netminders. Each now has yielded 72 goals in 31 games.

ROOKIES HAMMERED in four of the Red Wings' six goals as the red-hot Wings extended their current streak to 12 games with only a single loss.

Don Morrison rapped in two scores in the second period, one after a clever feint that drew goalie Jim Henry out of position for a six-foot shot and the other on a rib-and stick-handling job that put him in position to blase home a 15-foot shot. Morrison's goals came less than two minutes apart.

JIM McFADDEN, Detroit's nominee for the rookie of the year prize, plunked a high, sailing shot into the upper right hand corner of the cage from 15 feet out late in the game after freshman Marty Pavelich had taken McFadden's pass out from behind the cage and slapped in an eight-footer.

Pete Horeck, deflecting Ted Lindsay's shot home, and defencemen Bill Quackenbush, scoring on a 30-foot screen shot, got the other two Detroit goals.

Detroit's continuing surge lifted the Red Wings a point past idle Toronto into the league lead. The Wings left immediately after the game for Montreal, where they will play tonight.

New York Rangers Sign Stan Maxwell

NORTH BAY, Ont., Jan. 8. — (CP) — New York Rangers have placed Stan Maxwell, North Bay hockey player who now is starring with Lethbridge Maple Leafs of the Western Canada Senior Hockey League, on their reserve list, it was learned yesterday.

Placement on the reserve list means that Maxwell will attend the Ranger training camp next fall. Formerly he was on Chicago Black Hawks' reserve lists and twice went to the Hawks' Regina training camp.

Pigeon Problem Stumps Council

PORT CREDIT, Ont. Jan. 8.—(CP)—Rev. B. G. Buley's pigeon problem brought these comments from town councillors, when he asked permission to take a few pot-shots at the rapidly-multiplying birds quartered in the eaves of the rectory:

"He could soak some grain in good Scotch, thus providing food and drink as well," said one councillor. "That would make it easy for him to catch them."

"The minister should have gone ahead and shot them instead of asking—nothing would likely have been done," said Councillor Harvey Corey.

Council decided finally its hands were tied by the ban on shooting inside the municipal limits. Mr. Buley's request was forwarded to the police committee.

Pastor-Fireman Is Busy Man

STURGIS, Mich., Jan. 8.—(CP)—With resourceful awe, members of the Sturgis fire department tell of the versatility of Rev. William A. Harrington, Baptist minister and volunteer fireman. At 8:30 a.m. Sunday he answered the alarm and fought a fire at the Masonic building until 11:30. He dashed back to the parsonage, changed his clothes, delivered his sermon in the church next door, and at 12:15 was back in his fireman's togs fighting the flames.

Built for Two

Believing a man should have his girl friend at his side even while bicycling, Tullio Lo Monaj, Milan Italy, invented this vehicle. Seats are beside each other, both persons pedal but only one steers.

Measure of Relief

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Although the world food crisis is still far from over, record wheat crops in Australia and Argentine will provide some measure of relief, partially offset by lower Canadian and United States crops, the Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday in a monthly survey of world wheat supplies.

Many Marines for European Waters

MOREHEAD CITY, N.C., Jan. 8 (AP)—A submarine and an L.S.T. (landing ship tank) were docked here yesterday and observers said loading operations involving an estimated 500 marines and equipment were under way.

Officers on the scene refused to disclose the loading operation.

Two navy transports carrying an estimated 1,000 marines slipped quietly from this North Carolina port Monday. A terse navy announcement said the marines were destined for assignment aboard warships now based in Italian and Greek waters.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Admiral Chester Nimitz said yesterday that United States marine reinforcements now en route to the Mediterranean are intended to bring naval ship complements to combatant strength as "visible evidence of support close at hand" to army ground forces.

Nimitz referred to American forces at Trieste, some 5,000 men of an American division face Yugoslav ground forces vastly superior in number.

$2,000 Damages

CALGARY, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Special and general damages amounting to $2,000 were awarded Douglas Ralph Orr of Calgary here yesterday. Orr asked for $15,702 damages against Glen Smith of Queenstown, Alta., following a traffic accident here Jan. 14, 1946.

Shot in Leg, Gets Damages

CALGARY, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Kenneth Kjorsvick of Eagle Hill, Alta., was awarded $300 special and general damages in a judgment handed down by Mr. Justice C. C. McLaurin in the court house here yesterday. Young Kjorsvick and his father, John J. Kjorsvick, asked $6,219 damages against Harry Cameron of Eagle Hill who shot the boy in the leg with a .22 calibre bullet as he was trespassing on the defendant's property.

Adjourns Hearings Pending 'Clean-Up'

NELSON, B.C., Jan. 8.—(CP)—Judge H. J. Sullivan, special commissioner appointed by the British Columbia government to investigate Doukhobor disturbances, said last night he had adjourned hearings until the "situation is cleaned up."

He said he could not attempt to solve differences which have kept Doukhobor sects at variance for a half-century "while the country is being blown up and burnt up."

At a meeting yesterday with nine delegates from three sects, eight of the representatives agreed that the use of force was the only method of preventing the orgy of arson and pillaging which has kept the Kootenay Valley in a state of terror for the past seven months.

However, one delegate, Timothy Savinkoff, a member of the radical Sons of Freedom sect, voiced his disapproval or force. He did not think it "would be right."

Veteran of Two World Wars Dies

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Lt.-Col. Neil Ferguson, 53, OBE, who served with distinction in both world wars, died in hospital Tuesday.

Born in Maitawa, Ont., Lt.-Col. Ferguson commanded headquarters forestry district No. 5 during the second world war. He fought in France and Flanders in the first world war.

Red Cross Society Blood Transfusion

CALGARY, Jan. 8.—(CP)—The Canadian Red Cross Society's free blood transfusion service, operating in Alberta for less than six months, already has collected and distributed about 7,000 bottles of whole blood to hospitals in the province, Red Cross officials announced yesterday.

Saving to the public was estimated at more than $100,000.

In addition to the use of whole blood, more than 1,500 bottles of blood plasma have been stored in Alberta hospitals for emergency use and in the treatment of shock cases.

Law Society of Alberta

150 Barristers Meet In Convention Here

More than 150 barristers are attending the annual meeting of members of the Law Society of Alberta which opened Thursday morning at the Macdonald hotel.

Sessions of the meeting opened with an address by the vice-president, H. S. Patterson, KC, Calgary, who was deputizing for S. W. Field, KC, Edmonton, president for the last two years, but who did not seek re-election as a bencher.

Provisions of the new Dower Act to be submitted to the next session of the Legislature were explained by H. J. Wilson, KC, deputy attorney-general, who took the place of Hon. Lucien Maynard, KC, attorney general, who is at present confined to hospital.

W. A. McGillivray, Calgary, led discussion on a suggested increase of fees under schedule "C" of the rules of the supreme court of Alberta, and J. E. A. Macleod, KC, also of Calgary, led discussion of suggested registration of bills of sale, conditional sale agreements and lien notes at the office of the provincial secretary.

DURING THE AFTERNOON session G. W. Auxier, KC, Edmonton, will comment on the proposed Dominion Income Tax Act, and H. G. Johnson, Edmonton, will report on the work of a committee dealing with uniform tariff in conveyancing and other matters.

Outlining the provision of the proposed new Dower Act, Mr. Wilson said it had been prepared with a view to meeting criticism and removing the conflict with the Land Titles Act, and at the same time reserving to the wife all the rights given her under the present act.

Under the terms of the act as drafted for submission to the Legislature, disposition by a married person without consent is prohibited under penalty, rather than being made null and void as at present. This removes the conflict with the Land Titles Act, and any purchased who relies upon the register gets good title, and the penalty provides a deterrent against disposition without consent.

Also a spouse deprived of dower is given the right of action for damages and the judgment for damages, if unsatisfied, may be recovered from the assurance fund.

UNDER THE NEW ACT, dower rights are granted to husbands as well as to wives. This is proposed because frequently a husband registered real property and, particularly his home in the name of his wife. If the predecessor him he should have a life estate in the home, and if unhappy differences arise, she should not be able to dispose of such property without his consent.

Provision also is made for a spouse of give up dower rights by agreement for valuable consideration, if certain safeguards are observed.

Three Break-Ins Reported in City

No estimate had been made of loss in two break-ins reported to city police on Wednesday and to a third the only item missing was said to be a mantel radio.

Two panes of glass in a rear window of the Bob Ian Lunch were removed, Const. J. E. Swan, city police, who reported the break-in, said. The proprietor of the lunch counter told police he had locked up at 7 o'clock. He could see little evidence of any loss.

Later a man, described as a decided blond, was seen to remove an article from a broken window at Perfect's Sheet Metal Works. The proprietor boarded up the window, but was unable to say what was missing from the shop.

The radio was taken from a local furniture store through a rear window. Footprints were seen in the snow leading to and from the window. Nothing else was missing.

Government's Policy Is Firm

Produce or Else Is Edict on Oil

Building Projects Slated for 1948

Edmonton's commercial and institutional building program for 1948 at present is not clearly defined, but there are definite projects planned for the year that indicate a minimum construction total of more than $3,000,000.

The provincial department of public works will proceed with the construction of the $1,000,000 Aberhart memorial sanitarium on the University of Alberta site, and it is expected that the Dominion government will proceed with the erection of a post office forwarding building at the CNR depot.

Also scheduled to start this year is the new CNR freight sheds, which is estimated to cost approximately $500,000.

A school building program to meet the classroom shortage in the city is planned with the public school board starting on the second unit of the composite high school north of 109 avenue, and three other schools in other city districts. The separate school board also has a program of construction, and it is estimated that school building will reach the $1,000,00 mark in 1948.

No major projects are contemplated by the city at present, but a $60,000 addition to the South Side telephone system's building will be erected during the year.

Two Wanted Men Arrested Here

Less than an hour after receipt of a phone call from Calgary police that two men, wanted for forgery in that city, might be on their way to Edmonton, Steve J. Dvornik, 19 years old, and Leroy Burns, 21, were under arrest in Edmonton as the wanted men.

Detective Jack Langford and Dan MacLean boarded the bus from Calgary as it entered the city just after 7.30 p.m. Wednesday and made the arrests. The Calgary phone call had been received less than an hour before and had indicated the men had left the southern city by car for Airdrie. It was thought they might have boarded a train at that point.

Police were alerted and the bus was boarded.

The men were lodged in police cells overnight, awaiting escort back to Calgary.

Police reports say that one of the men had a sum of money and check book in his possession, and information from Calgary indicated that the name used by the men in their forgeries was Manolson.

Divorce Granted

A decree nisi of divorce was granted in supreme court Thursday by Mr. Justice Hugh John Macdonald to Emily J. Carlisle from Earl L. Carlisle.

While sympathetic to the problems associated with the great search for oil now going on in this province, the Alberta government has nevertheless adopted a firm policy of "produce or get out," it was disclosed in oil circles Thursday.

SEVERAL MILLION acres of the government's oil and gas rights were taken up by large and small companies in the latter part of 1947 under terms of revised regulations effective last July 11.

The reservations are for a period of four months only and can be continued only on the basis of "satisfactory progress reports."

Thursday the government made known that while its regulations have been toughened it is sympathetic to the problems loaded on the oil industry by the rapid expansion of exploratory activities.

BY ORDER-IN-COUNCIL it has ruled that any reservation granted or following an application made on or after Aug. 16, 1947 to the end of 1947, shall become operative on Jan. 1, 1948. This concession extends the date for commencement of work on reservations affected but does not extend the life of the reservations.

Tax Prepayments Total $435,855

Prepayments of city land taxes for the period Jan. 1 to Jan. 7, inclusive, totalled $435,855.31, compared with $448,515.54 for the same period last year, a decrease of $18,660.23, according to a statement issued Thursday by Thomas Walker, city assessor.

Wednesday's payments totalled $138,774.75 compared with $231,222.21 for the same day last year, a decrease of $92,447.46.

Large payments made Wednesday were Friedman, Lieberman and Newson, $34,500; Imperial Oil Ltd., $21,000; Bank of Montreal, $11,800, and The Wolfe Co. Ltd., $4,120.

Corps Association Elects J. W. Duke

At the annual meeting for the election of officers of the Canadian Corp Association, J. W. Duke was elected president by a unanimous vote, succeeding A. M. Adamson, who did not stand for re-election.

Mr. Duke has been an active member of the Corp since it was organized, and has served on the executive for eight years. He is aware of many of the problems affecting the rehabilitation of the veterans of both wars. Previous to the outbreak of hostilities in 1914 he was a member of the 19th Alberta Dragoons. He enlisted with the 2nd Service Squadron of that unit in 1914, the squadron being later a unit of the Canadian Mounted Rifles.

Mr. Duke served in France from September 1915 with C.M.Rs. and Canadian Corp Headquarters until January 1917.

When he was commissioned he served with the Canadian Corp Cavalry until he was injured and evacuated to England in May of 1918, and was discharged in January of 1919. During the second world war Mr. Duke was a member of the Veterans Volunteer Reserve from the time of its organization until it was disbanded.

G. Linney was elected first vice-president, and A. Peart was named second vice-president.

The other officers elected were: padre, Bishop W. F. Barfoot; treasurer, Allan Miles; divisional representatives are: first division, F. A. Stewart Dunn and S. L. Adams; second division, H. Kennedy and L. L. Lister; third division, F. Pinnell and A. Taylor; fourth division, J. Turner and L. O. Svendsen; corp troops, R. Cockburn and C. G. Parker; nursing sister, Miss C. MacKay.

G. B. Taylor was in charge of the election, and was the returning officer.

Will Organize Friday

Women to Map Campaign For Blind Service Centre

Fifty representatives of women's organizations will meet in the Macdonald hotel Friday night at eight o'clock to discuss plans for the city-wide campaign to raise funds for the building campaign of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

The campaign which will be conducted the last two weeks of February has set an objective of $100,000 for the erection of a Northern Alberta Service Centre and residence for the blind to be located at 129 street and Jasper avenue. The centre is designed to be Northern Alberta headquarters for administration as well as a residence for aged and homeless blind people. There will be dormitories for the transient blind and there will be scheduled rehabilitation work for the new blind. The building will also provide recreation facilities.

About one-third of the 500 blind citizens of Northern Alberta reside in Edmonton.

Capt. M. C. Robinson, Vancouver, Western Canada director of the CNIB, will be guest speaker at Friday's meeting.

Mrs. Phil Jean is chairman of the ladies' group and she is being assisted by Mrs. R. B. Clifton.

The campaign executive decided at a meeting Wednesday night that the drive would be divided into three groups, namely: women's division, business section, and special names. The campaign chairman is R. M. Moore.

They Say Their Tent is Warm as a House

Edmonton's housing shortage does not bother these four hardy men who claim a tent is just as warm a place to live as a house. They say, however, that they did not altogether object to the recent mild spell. The four, from left to right, are W. Hyndman, Calgary; W. Kirsch, Edmonton; H. Friedrikson, Calgary, and A. Lyster, Calgary. They are going to carry on in their tent for several months yet. —Photo by Blank.

Frank Drayton Is Cross-Examined

Conditions at Detention Home Discussed at Welfare Hearing

Conditions prevailing in the South Side detention home for juvenile delinquents were discussed at length Wednesday morning, as the Royal Commission probing welfare administration in Alberta continued hearings at the Edmonton courthouse.

FRANK DRAYTON, superintendent of the Edmonton relief and child welfare department, was still on the stand as the commission recessed Wednesday.

E. D. Arnold, counsel for the Calgary Herald, continued his cross-examination of Mr. Drayton, who is a voluntary witness giving personal views to the commission on child welfare.

Mr. Arnold read at length from articles appearing in the Calgary Herald in May of 1947.

WITNESS HAD previously admitted he did not consider the old South Side police station a suitable place to detain juveniles but explained it had been impossible to secure other premises at the time.

Mr. Drayton was not in complete agreement with descriptions of the South Side detention home as portrayed in the Calgary articles written by David Stanfield of the Calgary Herald staff. Witness said that to his knowledge no adult prisoners had been confined to the old South Side police station since 1926.

He made this statement after Mr. Stanfield quoted sections of legislation covering the detention of juveniles.

COUNSEL READ from the Herald that "Youngsters were penned up like animals, the place was damp and had a smell like a monkey house at the zoo.'

After admitting that the place where youngsters were held was a "typical police station cell block" with barred doors and windows, Mr. Drayton denied that floors were dank or that the place "smelled like a monkey house" as described by the Herald.

Boys detained were able to read under prevailing lighting conditions, he said. As to the furnishings, witness declared that it had been necessary to change this from time to time.

"THE BOYS were at war with society. If they didn't like certain furniture they smashed it and they tore up the mattresses," he explained.

Mr. Drayton later admitted that not all of those detained were bad boys.

Witness was questioned at length about the case of young theft repeater of 14 who eventually was committed to the Oliver mental institute.

Counsel tried to establish that the boy in question should have been examined far earlier by a psychiatrist before his committal to a mental institute. It was previously established that the boy had been in and out of the South Side detention home for two years.

Chief Justice Howson, commission chairman, made this observation at that juncture:

"THERE ARE a great many children in natural homes that a psychiatrist would take two years to decide whether they should be confined to Ponoka, Oliver or elsewhere."

Mr. Drayton disclosed that the Red Deer mental training school for abnormal children is so overcrowded that it can only take a new case on the death of an inmate. As a result the child welfare branch has to keep some abnormal children in city nursing homes.

Points for Parents

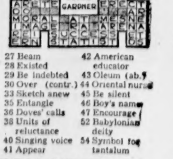

Mother: "Tommie's trying to walk but I'm doing all I can to keep him off his feet so that he won't be bow-legged as his father is."

Mother: "Tom's diet contains plenty of bone-building food so I'm letting him try out his legs as he feels the urge to do so."

Baby knows best when he is ready to walk and talk and parents who retard, as well as those who attempt to hasten baby's walking, are interfering with his normal development.

Film Personalities Ask Heavy Damages

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Three high-salaried film personalities filed suit for a total of $3,165,925 yesterday against movie studios which dismissed two of them and suspended the third for refusal to answer questions before a house committee on un-American activities, sitting in Washington.

THE THREE are writers Ring Lardner, Jr., and Lester Cole, and Producer-Director Edward Dmytryk. Lardner and Dmytryk, who was born in Grand Forks, B.C. sought damages of $1,382,500 and $1,783,425, respectively while Cole merely asked a court order of declaratory relief and return to the payroll.

Dmytryk, who said he was under a two-year contract at $2,500 weekly, directed his suit against RKO studio, alleging damage to his artistic reputation and "humiliation and anguish" as result of his dismissal.

LARDNER SUED 20th Century Fox, making similar charges and demanded, in addition to damages, that his $1,150-a-week contract be declared in force. Cole's suit was directed at Loew's, Inc., and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio, and asked an injunction ordering the studio to put him back on the payroll.

The three men and seven other Hollywood writers and film executives were cited for contempt of Congress for refusing to state whether or not they are or had been members of the Communist party. They testified before the Thomas committee, which is still inquiring into communistic influences in Hollywood.

Marshall Answers Questions on Aid

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(HUP)—Here are some questions frequently asked about the Marshall plan, and the answers given by Secretary of State George C. Marshall:

Q—Why must Europe need help?

A—The war smashed the vast and delicate mechanism by which European unity was made their living. Within its own resources Europe cannot achieve economic stability within a reasonable time.

Q—Why must the U.S. carry so great a load?

A—The U.S. is the only country in the world today which has the economic power and productivity to furnish the needed assistance.

Q—How much help is needed?

A—It is proposed that Congress now authorize the program for its full four-and-one-quarter-year duration, and appropriate $6,800,000,000 for the first 15 months. The estimated cost of the program is now put at somewhere between $15,000,000,000 and $17,000,000,000.

Q—Can the U.S. afford it?

A—Yes. Both in terms of physical resources and in terms of financial capacity, our ability to support such a program seems clear. This program should be viewed as an investment in peace. In those terms, the cost is low.

Q—How should help be given?

A—An executive agency under the responsible direction of one man, and fitted into the existing machinery of government, will be better able to meet the requirements of the situation than a corporation directed by a board. It would be unfortunate to create an entirely new agency for foreign policy for this government. There cannot be two secretaries of state.

Q—What are the prospects of success?

A—All we can say is this program does provide the means for success and if we maintain the will for success I believe that success will be achieved.

Beaver-Tail Soup is Good Say Trappers

THE PAS, Man., Jan. 8.—(CP) — M-m-m-m-m-m: It's good!

Around this northern Manitoba mining town and among the Indian camps in the region, that's what they say about beaver-tail soup. It's a delicacy that is to be introduced to Manitoba government officials attending the Northern Manitoba Trappers Festival here Jan. 22-24.

The beaver tails are to be provided by Richard Fourre, a "trouble shooter" for the game and fisheries department. Fourre is an expert on beavers since one of his jobs is to match his wits against the animals in the spring and summer when they seek to carry out "operations" that would be a nuisance where the Hudson Bay Railway is concerned.

Although the banquet is still two weeks off, Fourre already has provided a recipe for the soup to the restaurant owner who will be in charge of the catering for the evening.

Found He Was Dead and Buried

SOUTH HAVEN, Mich., Jan. 8.—(CP)—Returning to South Haven to pay his lodge dues, 44-year-old Ronald H. Withers discovered that he was supposed to be buried in a nearby cemetery.

A body identified by his sister and uncle was taken from the St. Joseph river last June. Finally able to convince his people that reports of his death were exaggerated, he said he had been working on a farm in South Bend, Indiana.

Drumheller Mayor Charges Coercion

DRUMHELLER, Alta., Jan. 8.—(CP)—Mayor Russell Kidd of Drumheller has declared war on what he terms "a small group of men" attempting to cast their influence over others by either "coercion or by their supposedly entrenched position in the city."

In a statement released at a council meeting Tuesday, Mayor Kidd said he had been approached personally by men wishing special favors and that one attempt had been made to bribe him.

He stressed that the group was not of a political or religious nature, but "some individuals believe they can alter anyone's opinion or decision by dropping a hint here and applying pressure there."

In appealing to the council members for their support on the issue, Mayor Kidd said it will make enemies and do well you if you support me. . . Most of the group carry weight in this town."

A vote of confidence and support of the mayor was pledged by council. The mayor said he was ready to tender his resignation immediately if council was not ready to support him on the issue.

Accept Offer For West Reich

By ROBERT HAEGER

FRANKFURT, Jan. 8.—(HUP)—German leaders of the Anglo-American occupation zone met today to accept an offer by Gen. Lucius D. Clay giving them a west German state in all but name.

The organization blueprint for the merged zone's calls for a cabinet, a two-house legislature, a high court, a central bank and other departments with full control over all eight states in the two zones.

The proposals were outlined yesterday by Clay, who carefully refrained from referring to them as a central government. Clay insisted that a United Germany including all four zones still is the Allied objective despite failure of the London conference.

At the same time the British and American occupation armies in the merged zones will be placed under a new unified command patterned after the supreme allied headquarters established in Paris to direct all armies on the western front.

Clay told the Germans that the "Little Shaef" will be established in Frankfurt. It was expected that many officers from Berlin would be called in to serve in the new headquarters.

Gypsum deposits in Victoria, Australia, are estimated at several millions of tons.

Plan to Spend $53,000

Red Deer Announces Construction Program

RED DEER, Jan. 8.—The city of Red Deer will spend approximately $53,000 on a public works construction program in 1948. An outline of the proposed work was presented to city council this week by the commissioners. Just how much of the program can be carried out will depend on the availability of material and labor. Some of the material is already on hand.

BUILDING OF sidewalks, curbs and boulevards will form the largest part of the program. The city is behind in this work because of shortages of labor and material during the war years. About a dozen different new projects are on the books in addition to some replacements, petitions for which have been on file for some time. Total estimated cost will run around $19,000. Sewer construction at $16,500 and water mains at $12,500 are the next largest items. Larger sewers will be put in in some sections of the city to increase capacity and prepare for future extension of services.

One block and a number of lanes will be paved in the business section in the street improvement program. This will cost around $4,700. In addition if material and time permit it is possible that some sidewalks will be built in North Red Deer which is now a part of the city and some may be built in the VLA holdings to the southeast of the city.

The public works department program in 1947 ran to $46,700 with $18,500 spent on cement walks and $14,000 on paving. Sewer construction was $5,000. Seven blocks of street were paved and 91 new sewer and water connections were made.

A. B. SAMUEL is superintendent of the Public Works Department and city engineer. He was appointed on Nov. 1, 1947, after being a member of the staff for some time. He succeeds J. R. Jones, who retired after excellent service as head of the department for 21 years. There are 29 permanent employes on the staff. Equipment used to carry out the works program and in maintenance includes a light truck, two heavy trucks, a jeep, caterpillar tractor, power maintainer, a power sprinkler, a power roller, an asphalt travelling kettle power ditcher and shovel and an electric thawing machine. An asphalt mixing plant and a gravel crushing plant are also operated, a city garage and storage yard houses the equipment.

Prospector's Slayer Dies on Gallows

PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 8.—(CP)—A tale of murder in the cold December snows of northwestern Ontario more than a year ago reached its final chapter in the district jail last night when Charles Martin, 35, was hanged for the slaying of a 71-year-old prospector.

A terse announcement from jail officials two hours and 15 minutes after the hanging said the former Vancouver resident died on the gallows at 11:30 p.m. CST.

Martin had lived in the shadow of the noose since last November, when the supreme court of Ontario found him guilty of murder of Joseph Grant on the latter's mining property at Cook's Lake, near Schreiber, Ont.

Grant's assistant, Marcel Duschesneau, 28, also had been killed. Although believed to have died in December, 1946, their bodies were not discovered until early spring.

Canada's Foreign Trade Is Record

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Canada's total foreign trade reached a record total of $4,920,700,000 during the first 11 months of 1947, compared with $3,870,000,000 in the corresponding period of 1946, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday.

TOTAL TRADE in November was $485,100,000 against $433,300,000 a year ago and, with December figures still to come, the 12-month total was 15 per cent above the aggregate amount of $4,296,400,000 for the whole of 1946.

Value of commodities exported during the 11 months ended November was $2,588,500,000, compared with $2,100,300,000 in the similar period of 1946, an advantage of 19.4 per cent. Total for the 11 months was 8.5 per cent above the aggregate for 1946, which amounted to $2,312,200,000. Export trade in November was valued at $255,100,000 against $232,200,000 in November, 1946, and $250,800,000 in October.

Hearings on ITU Stand Commence

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Cleo Dale, a publishers representative testified yesterday that the International Typographical Union (AFL), after the enactment of the Taft-Hartley Labor law last July, proposed for the first time in 32 years "an overall country-wide" agreement to keep the closed shop in effect".

The closed shop is prohibited by the Taft-Hartley law. In some current ITU strikes against newspapers the publishers contend the union is trying to circumvent the law. The union denies this, saying the strike issue is wages—a contention the publishers deny.

The testimony yesterday formally opened a National Labor Relations Board hearing in Chicago, expected to continue three to six weeks on NLRB charges of unfair labor practices by the ITU.

Dale, chairman of a special standing committee on labor relations for the American Newspaper Publishers Association, testified that from 1924 to last summer the ITU had worked under local rather than nationwide contracts with ANPA members.

Dale said that last September after July negotiations of ITU officials an ANPA committee and ITU leaders met at Indianapolis. The meeting was unsuccessful because the ANPA felt ITU proposals to keep the closed shop "for another year" would have involved "commitments we have no propriety in assuming . . . ."

May Attract Russian Bloc

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Authoritative sources said yesterday the United States is deliberately holding back important proposals for the United Nations Little Assembly in the hope that a conservative course may attract the Russian Bloc and that other countries will take the initiative now.

Delegates representing a number of countries at the first meeting of the Little Assembly Monday expressed surprise that the United States, which fought hard last fall to set up the Little Assembly, did not come forward with a complete plan of action.

Drayton Restores Racing's Integrity

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—On Jan. 15 it will be just two years since the United States horse racing industry, suffering from a bad case of the jitters, hired Spencer Drayton away from the Federal Bureau of Investigation and commanded him to give the sport a kings a thorough scrubbing.

Yesterday the ex-sleuth was entitled to look back upon 24 months of solid achievement and to contemplate a coming season in which the integrity of racing will be less open to question than ever before in its history.

UNDER DRAYTON'S driving insistence, more than 25,000 fingerprints of racing folk now are on file in his offices here. He figures he has only about 10,000 more to go. A total of 7,000 thoroughbreds had identifying numbers tattooed on their lips last year, and Drayton expects to complete the job in 1948.

"The fingerprints are a great deterrent to the criminal elements," he said. "Information of criminal records supplied by us has enabled owners of stables to weed out many undesirables."

Flying Saucers Seen Again in Kentucky Skies

FORT KNOX, Ky., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Flying saucers are said to be sailing Kentucky skies again.

The object spotted early this afternoon by Col. Guy Hix, commander of Godman field here, was chased by National Guard planes and followed from the ground by state highway patrolmen.

Hix said he spotted the "saucer" from the airports observation tower and that it was "very white and looked like an umbrella."

He radioed three National Guard planes to follow the object and the pilots reported later they were 20,000 feet high and the saucer was still above them. They estimated its speed at about 180 miles an hour.

Highway patrol headquarters reported receiving calls that described the disk as resembling an "ice cream cone with a little fire at the bottom."

Girls See Vision Of Virgin Mary

PARIS, Jan. 8.—(Reuters)—Three young girls of the Breton village of Pleaux near Rennes claim to have seen a vision of the Virgin Mary twice during the last two weeks, Paris evening papers said today.

Four young girls of the Ile Bouchard in the Indre Et Loire department of central France said Dec. 15 that the Virgin had appeared to them and commanded them to have a grotto built in her honor.

The Pleaux girls said that as they were walking to church Dec. 26 they were dazzled by a ball of fire which descended from the sky and out of which stepped a radiant young girl dressed in a long blue gown.

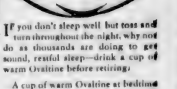

She told them she was the Virgin Mary and asked them to return to the same spot the next day, they said. The next day they were again met by the Virgin Mary, accompanied by the Angel Gabriel, and she imparted to them "four great secrets."

The girls declined to reveal the secrets. Their story has led many pilgrims from all parts of France to the spot where they first met their vision.

Control panels and dials in a radio-transmitter studio. The pattern of sound-waves is impressed on a high-frequency electric current. The resulting radio waves, or electromagnetic waves, are then sent out into the atmosphere through an antenna.

This and the following articles are taken from the Book of Knowledge and can be clipped for saving in a reference book.

RADIO TRANSMITTERS AND RECEIVERS

A radio transmitter is a machine, or ins ument, that sends electromagnetic waves into the air. There are many kinds of transmitters, but they all have the same basic principle.

First, they all must have a source of electric current, for radio waves are produced by the vibration, or oscillation, of electric current. This is changed from a low-frequency to a high-frequency current—that is, the rate of vibration is greatly increased.

A mouthpiece, or microphone, which responds to sound-waves is connected with the system. As you speaking into it, the pattern of the sound-waves is impressed on the high-frequency current. The resulting wave is sent out into the atmosphere through an antenna.

Transmitter towers of a broadcasting station. The radio waves sent off into the air are caught by the antenna of your home receiver and are then changed back into sound-waves.

An antenna is a wire or wires stretched between two points some distance above the ground, from which the radio waves go off into the air, or are collected from the air. It could be called a wave radiator, somewhat similar to the radiator in your home, but giving off radio waves rather than heat waves.

Near your home receiver you have another antenna. This one catches the waves as they come through the air. You may ask why it doesn't become saturated and confused with all the different waves that are flying around. The answer is that the receiver to which it is connected can be adjusted to select waves of only one frequency, and to reject all others. It is just like unlocking a door. Only one key will be successful—all others fail.

Inside a simple receiver the high-frequency current from the antenna is sent through what is called a detector. Here the current is changed from AC to DC, that is, from alternating current to direct current—it is rectified. A telephone receiver or speaker, which makes the waves audible, completes the set.

The simplest detector is a mineral crystal, usually galena or lead sulfide. It allows waves to pass through in one direction much better than in another, thereby changing AC to DC. Such sets require no battery. The cost is slight, but their power and range are limited.

Crystal sets were the first-type receiver widely used by the public. The principle on which they operate is much simpler than that of electron-tube receivers, which are most common today. But the reason the crystal sets are still of great interest to radio amateurs, or "hams". They are often built and studied by young folks.

BRINGS FAST RELIEF in RHEUMATIC ACHES-PAINS RUB ON MUSTEROLE

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Few of us are conscious of our voices and still fewer recognize our own when we hear it. The most astounding of experiences is for any person to hear himself talk by way of a radio transcript. He is certain that that couldn't possibly be he.

It might be equally illuminating if mothers knew what their voices sounded like to their children. The soft voice, the voice with an amused and affectionate smile in it, is apt to be reserved for the children of other people. One's own get a very stern voice, or a calm one with a no-nonsense tone. Parents are so afraid if they talk softly and sweetly that their children will ride rough-shod over them. They have a fear of being too nice.

Mothers are guilty of letting their emotions about their daily experiences creep into their voices. They have an argument with the meat man who has sent a tough piece of meat; with Daddy who wants to know what happened to all the money he had given them, with their best friend over some other best friend. The children get a full dose of these emotions when mothers talk to them. There is an ear-and-any-more-of-this vibration that warns the child to go easy, or something will pop.

A child senses the feeling a parent has about personal shortcomings. The mother says irritatedly, "Oh, that dress! You look simply terrible in it. There, let me pull down that belt. Can't you try to keep yourself more tidy?"

The child knows. It isn't the dress. It is she who is too fat or too thin, and doesn't please her mother. It is in her voice, her disappointment, her aggrevation.

Mothers can learn a lot about their voices if they will listen to their children at play. The way in which a child bosses the younger children when she is Mama; the tone of the conversation at the table, this is all skillfully and often embarrassingly portrayed in play. It is well for mother to treat her children to her company voice more often. A child who listens to his mother talk sweetly and graciously to him will imitate this same voice. Then a parent is delighted to have people say, "What a lovely personality your child has, so charming and pleasant." It's all in what children are used to hearing and even if a parent thinks she has the privilege of talking harshly, flatly or irritatedly, she doesn't want her children to advertise this to the public.

Our leaflet No. 42 "Normal Speech Development," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of the Edmonton Bulletin.

DOROTHY DIX says:

Men Prefer Girls With Good Manners

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a girl of 17. I have to work for my living and my salary just covers the bare necessities of existence. I have few pleasures and no luxuries. When I think of the bleak future that stretches before me, I become dreadfully discouraged. I long for pretty clothes, for amusement, for gayety, for feasting and dancing, and love-making. Sometimes I wonder if it really pays a girl to be good.

UNHAPPY GIRL.

ANSWER: Yes, it pays a girl to be good. It pays in many ways. One of these is your own conscience. There is only one person whose respect is necessary to our happiness and that is your own. The day you lose the ability to look yourself in the face, something has gone from you that takes all peace and comfort with it.

Today's Lesson Hand was taken from the national women's team-of-four championship played recently in Atlantic City, N.J. The event ended in a tie. One of the tying teams was made up of players from three different countries—Mrs. Charlton Wallace of Cincinnati, O.; Mrs. M. Romanelli and Mrs. William Anderson of Canada, and Mrs. Trevor Lyons of Kingston, Jamaica, B.W.I.

The other was a Philadelphia team composed of Mrs. Charles Stewart, Mrs. Raymond Smullenn, Mrs. L. C. Robinson, Mrs. G. Illig.

Both teams found the squeeze play in today's hand, which brings out the importance of analyzing the players' holdings from the bidding. East's vulnerable overcall of one spade marked her with some high cards. While the contract was for only four, bear in mind that in tournament play the maximum tricks must be taken.

Both declarers decided that East undoubtedly held the ace of diamonds, and if she also held the king of clubs a squeeze play could be employed.

The won the opening spade lead with the ace and returned the ten of spades. East winning with the jack.

The burden of responsibility was now on East. If she returned a spade, a stuff and a ruff would follow. If she cashed the diamond ace, it would set up the king, while the lead of a small club would be right up to declarer's jack.

East made the smart return of the eight of hearts. Now declarer ran all of the hearts. On the last heart dummy was down to the blank king of diamonds and the ace-queen-three of clubs.

East naturally could not let go the ace of diamonds, so she discarded the four of clubs and declarer discarded dummy's king of diamonds. Then a small club was led to the queen and the finesse taken, the ace dropped the king and jack of clubs won the last trick.

Thurs a nice squeeze play developed by marking East with the missing high cards.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Keep your facial contour as lovely and firm as Actress Rita Hayworth's, if you must reduce by dieting alone without the aid of exercise, by reducing slowly.

Exercise plays a very important part in reducing. If you reduce by diet alone you are more apt to look wan in the face and the neck and to keep the bulges which are out of proportion when you began your reducing routine. Exercise is also valuable in firming the body as you lose weight.

If you cannot exercise for some reason, then reduce by diet but do so very slowly, even more slowly than you would if you were exercising.

Many women have a lovely figure except for a large hip line. Others would look slim if they could just lose a large tummy. If you are not overweight but do have bulges which throw your figure out of proportion you can greatly improve this condition by exercise alone.

In reducing the hip line two methods are used: stretching and the pressure method. Today's exercise belongs to the latter classification. Sit on the floor with your legs out in front of you (knees stiff) and your hands on the floor, one at each side. Rock from side to side catching yourself on each side with your hand. As you rock to the right side shove your right leg forward from the hip. As you rock to the left side shove your left leg forward from the hip. In other words, do not "ease" along. Make it choppy!

Now is the time to join my Eight-Week Self Improvement Marathon if you wish to lose a big hip line in just eight weeks. This marathon is designed for most of your figure problems. Join by getting your Marathon leaflet regardless of whether you wish to lose weight on your arms, bust, waist, tummy, hips, thighs, calves—or all of them.

Be sure to enclose a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Marathon leaflet.

We are going to have fun, and thousands of women will have charming results in eight weeks' time. They do it every year!

Address your request to Josephine Lowman in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

New Artist Stars Overnight; She Feels She's Very Lucky

NEW YORK—(AP)—The most exciting thing that's happened to the "Met" this fall is Cleo Elmo, the dynamic mezzo-soprano from Italy.

Maybe she hasn't the best voice in the world, though it's an express give one. Maybe she isn't prima-genie in the American style, but she has a commanding personality on or off stage.

She has dark brown hair a wide and mobile mouth, green eyes and a shapely figure. In the roles in which she has been seen and heard at the Metropolitan Opera, she has been made up to be ugly. As Ulrica in "Un Ballo in Maschera," she is a Negro Necromancer, and as Azucena in "Il Trovatore," in which she made her New York debut, she is a gypsy crone.

Mme. Elmo says she resembles most artists and many Italians, too, in being superstitious. When she applied for travel papers at the American embassy in Rome, she got them in a few weeks instead of the usual several months that was the cause, she thinks, she found a nail at the embassy entrance. On the day here in New York when she picked up a second nail, it was right in front of a bank; she was certain she would become rich, and her confidence in such portents was borne out in part, she claims, by the fact that on that day she signed a recording contract.

Soon she doesn't like taxis which keep stopping for traffic lights, she uses the subway. She went to her "Trovatore" performance by subway, and there encountered the most certain of all signs, a hunchback, whom it is the best of luck to touch. The proof that it worked was seen in the enthusiastic reviews she received. Or perhaps her success was because she carefully refrained from wearing anything new that first night.

Mme. Elmo was a failure here before she became, overnight, a big success. She was a member of that opera troupe that started from Italy for Chicago and went broke before it gave its first performance. But the "Met" auditioned her, gave her a contract which went into effect this fall, and she returned to this country last October. She won her first acclaim as a last-minute soloist with the Cincinnati Orchestra under Thor Johnson.

Besides the two operas in which she has already sung at the "Met," appearances are planned in "Die Rheingold," "Aida," and "Cavalleria." Before she came to this country she had an active repertory of 75 oratorios and operas, an amazing number for a woman only in her 30s.

"I studied all my life," she says. She did "Madame Butterfly" at nine, and while still in her teens defeated 570 contestants for a Vienna prize. A Turin manager decided she was a mezzo and gave her the role of Adaglisa in "Norma." She has sung in many countries and for five years at La Scala in Milan. Toscanini was one of her many conductors.

As a Carmen in Turin, she bored the ears of a girl and knocked her voice completely out of her. As an Azucena in Mantua, she floored one of the governor's soldiers and sent his wig flying. When she sings she sings in earnest.

MEAFORD, Ont., Jan. 8—(CP)—She's 87 years old but Mrs. William Cook still can handle a telegraph key. On her birthday here this week, she claimed to be Canada's oldest telegraph operator.

Butcher's Display Thrills Immigrant

TORONTO—(CP)—There aren't many cheerful faces in front of a Toronto meat counters, but Mrs. George Paulsen is one shopper whose enthusiasm is undimmed by the price tags.

Newly-arrived from Oslo, Norway, Mrs. Paulsen still gets a thrill from the mere sight of a roast of pork or a few chickens on the butcher's counter.

Mrs. Paulsen and her husband completed a family migration to Toronto which started when her son, Hagden, came here during the Second World War and married a Toronto girl. Five other children and grand-children preceded Mrs. Paulsen and her husband.

Chic Parisienne Saves by Buying in Small Shops

By PATRICIA PALMER

PARIS—(CP)—Paris dressmakers may aim at the big money but what keeps the industry going are the "little" houses that don't depend on high explosives, chichi and dramatic presentations to keep their clients.

There are dozens of them tucked away on the Rue de la Paix, the Faubourg St. Honore and neighboring streets. They have addresses that look good on labels but you probably have to find your way there through a maze of courtyards or walk up four flights of stairs and the rustle of programs, melange or perfume that announces decor is missing when you get there.

Suzanne Gee at 4 Rue de la Paix is typical. Her two little showrooms, warmed with gas fires for the daily three o'clock showing, look across rooftops and into workrooms where the midinettes of big houses Paquin and Gres, are whipping their needles around.

Madame Gee has two models to show her collection, Paquin has 36, she has 50 in her workroom. Paquin has hundreds; ambassadors' wives go to Paquin, lesser officials foot the bills for Suzanne Gee's dresses. Her fall and spring collections average about 75 numbers in contrast to the 75 to 100 of the big-name houses. She charges around 50,000 francs ($250); they get 100,000 ($500) without any trouble.

You may not be the first one with the bustle device or the inverted drape shape if you have your clothes made at Suzanne Gee's. She designs original dresses but doesn't create the "mode". Her new line, with modifications, appears a few weeks after the sensational original in the restrained version.

This season for instance, she's showing the padded hipline and the long skirt—but the pads aren't exaggerated and the skirt makes it possible to sit in a bus without involuntarily sweeping the floor.

There are many classic dresses in her show the pale pink ballet-debutante dress with straplet shoulders and bouffant skirt; the heavy pailletted jacket evening dress for older women with sweet yet "youthful" lines; plenty of little black dresses and wearable day dresses and suits.

Madame Gee does all the designing herself, knows her customers' likes and dislikes personally and manages the business with a firm hand. She's like dozens of other creative, hard-working shrewd women in the "haute couture" and her story with slight variations is typical.

After graduating from an academy of painting and design she started out in life as an artist, married and had a family, then in the late 30's decided to take up dressmaking at dress designing.

Occasionally little houses like Suzanne Gee catch the imagination of the public and spring into prominence to take their places beside Dior, Paquin, Jacques Fath, Lanvin and Worth. More often than not they run a middle course, doing a good job for the most clothes-conscious women in the world.

Girl Wins Public Speaking Contest

TORONTO, Jan. 8—(CP)—Pretty, 19-year-old Peggy Smith of Milverton, Ont., walked away with provincial honors in the junior farmer public speaking contest Wednesday night when she told judges that she stuck to the farm because "it has none of the loneliness of a big city."

The auburn-haired speaker, who knows how to plow a straight furrow and milk a cow, brought home to Perth County when she competed against four other young orators at the concluding sessions of the Ontario junior farmers annual meeting.

"I think young farm people today have much more fun than our city cousins," she said. Entertainment many cheerful faces in front of a Toronto meat counters, but Mrs. George Paulsen is one shopper whose enthusiasm is undimmed by the price tags.

Avoid "Eventide" Homes

To House U.K.'s Aged In Residential Hotels

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Britain's indigent aged in future will be housed in institutions like residential hotels, and names like "eventide homes" will be avoided.

HEALTH MINISTER Bevan, speaking in support of the National Assistance Bill to establish new services for the needy, said he had cudgelled his brain to think of a name for the homes.

"Eventide homes," a Labor member suggested.

"No, many old people think they are at the dawn, not eventide," Bevan replied.

"Sanctuaries" was almost as bad as "eventide homes." "Retreats" was even worse.

So the homes would be like hotels, each with its own selected name, and, as bigness was the enemy of humanity, there would not be more than 25 to 30 persons in each.

THE HOMES will be established by local authorities. Accommodation will cost 21s. ($4.20) weekly, leaving 5s weekly as pocket money for the pensioner receiving 26s. The National Assistance Board will make up the total to 26s. for those whose pensions are less than this amount.

The necessity for enlarged accommodation for the aged was indicated by the minister's estimate that by 1970 old people would be one in five of the total population, "a staggering figure."

Old age pensions are payable to men at 65 years and to women at 60, if they retire from employment. But of the 7,000 who become eligible for pensions every week, two-thirds continue at their jobs.

Bevan said that 95 per cent of old people—those who obtain pensions—live independent lives in their own homes or those of their children.

The minister, with responsibility for the United Kingdom general housing program, said that construction of new homes for the aged will be in line with all-over building progress.

"We shall be putting young people into homes at one end and placing old people in homes at the other end," he said.

Mysterious Death

Sir Bernard Spilsbury, Britain's most famous pathologist, who worked on and solved many famous criminal cases, is himself centre of a police mystery. Spilsbury was found dead in his gas-filled laboratory at London university college. Whether death came as a result of his work—he sometimes experimented on himself—or from other reasons was the object of investigation. His two most famous cases were those of Dr. Hawley Crippen and George Joseph Smith. Crippen was convicted of murder of his wife when Spilsbury identified the body from an appendicitis scar on a piece of skin. Smith was found guilty of murdering three wives when Spilsbury demonstrated a person could be drowned in a bathtub and show no marks of violence.

Recalls Early Days in South

G. Rider Davis, lawyer and old-time resident of Macleod, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Historical Society of Alberta held in the arts building, University of Alberta, Wednesday. The subject of Mr. Davis' address was "Southern Alberta as it was when the Mounted Police Came."

History of Alberta is closely interwoven with the Blackfeet Indians and the early fur trader, said Mr. Davis. Explorers such as Jean Baptiste la Verendrye, Anthony Hendry, Mathew Cocking, David Thomson and Peter Fedler visited southern Alberta and each had his effect on the development of the country.

Mr. Davis cited the reasons for the formation of the North West Mounted Police as the danger that Canadian west would join the United States; the influx of the whisky traders in the west; complaints of the Canadian traders and trouble with the Indians. The inciting incident was the Cypress Hills massacre in 1874.

J. E. A. Macleod of Calgary thanked Mr. Davis for his address.

Next meeting of the society will be held March 17 in the arts building. Ernest Brown will give a lecture, accompanied by lantern slides, on "Early Edmonton." Election of officers will be held.

Report Jews Plan Jaffa Gate Attack

JERUSALEM, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Five more persons died in scattered violence throughout Palestine today and in Jerusalem the Jaffa Gate bristled with Arab armament. Rumors spread that a new Jewish attack would be launched against the gate.

Seven Jews liberated from a hospital one of their comrades who was wounded and captured yesterday after Jews made an armored car attack on the Jaffa Gate, taking the lives of 17 Arabs and three Jews.

Arabs began arming the gate after the rumor spread that four British armored cars had been stolen, possibly for a new onslaught on the old walled city. An Arab source said several hundred armed Arabs were massed at the gate, "ready to repel attacks." Roadblocks were augmented and Sten guns and rifles were made ready upon the walls.

Heavy sniper fire was heard frequently in the area, apparently a continuation of the duel between Arabs and some 1,500 Jews besieged inside the old city.

A British constable was shot to death in Hebron.

Conduct 381,000 X-Rays in Alberta

A total of 381,000 chest X-rays have been conducted in Alberta to the end of 1947, according to C. R. Dickey, general secretary of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association. The chest X-ray survey began in 1943.

Mr. Dickey addressed members of the Rotary Club during their regular luncheon meeting in the Macdonald hotel, Thursday.

TO DATE in the present Edmonton Chest X-ray Survey 26,000 X-rays have been taken and it is hoped to do another 60,000 or 65,000 before the campaign ends. During the recent Calgary campaign 73,000 citizens were X-rayed, which is about 73 per cent of the population.

Mr. Dickey said the Christmas Seal sale had reached the $105,000 mark. Its objective is $125,000, Edmonton has contributed about $45,000 of its $51,000 quota.

MR. DICKEY told the Rotary members that during the war years more people died from Tb. in Canada than were killed by war action in World War 2. He stated the disease has been a terrible killer for generations and the responsibility to wipe it out has fallen on the shoulders of the present generation.

"We now have Tb. on the run due mainly to X-ray and early diagnosis services," said Mr. Dickey. He added it is hoped to have the disease as rare as smallpox within 25 years.

Cars Must Carry 2 License Plates

Motorists in the province were warned Thursday by R. C. Arthurs, deputy provincial secretary, that they will need two license plate holders on their cars by the end of March when new licenses are issued.

He pointed out that many car owners had removed the extra plate holder in the war period when only one plate was being supplied for each vehicle.

It will be necessary after the first of the new fiscal year for each car to carry both plates, he warned.

Modest Gains on Winnipeg Mart

WINNIPEG, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Aggressive demand by shipers and eastern demand was reported today in both oats and barley futures on the Winipeg Grain Exchange. Liberal offerings were well absorbed during the active trade and prices scored modest gains. Buying attributed to American accounts also was reported. All barley futures prices made new seasonal highs. Oats also scored a new high in October while the May and July months of rye futures reached new highs.

Export buying was in evidence in rye dealings. There also were indications of some export business in rye during the last few days.

There was no export business reported today. Class two wheat prices advanced one cent.

AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Cash corn rang up a record high on the Board of Trade today, but quotations on grain futures were lower most of the day.

A car of No. 1 yellow corn sold in the cash market at $2.77 a bushel, a record price for yellow corn in this market. However, cash prices slumped late in the session when a leading processor withdrew from the market after making liberal purchases.

The May oats future made a seasonal peak and March oats, which is lightly traded, went to an all-time record for any oats contract. Gains were not large in either case.

A rally toward the close produced fractional gains in most contracts. The record high for March oats was $1.30½ while the seasonal peak for the May delivery was $1.23¼.

Wheat closed ½-1½ higher, corn was ¼-¾ higher and oats were ¼-1⅛ higher.

Bank President

SYDNEY G. DOBSON

Warns Canada Facing Inflation

MONTREAL, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Sydney G. Dobson, president of the Royal Bank of Canada, today told the 79th annual meeting of shareholders in an address prepared for delivery that Canada is facing two dangers— inflation at home and the possibility of economic collapse in Europe. Both must be met he said if this country is to maintain its present prosperity.

"Price rises make it more necessary than ever for us to measure our real advance in dollars of constant value,' he said. "The rest of the rise in money value is for the most part the empty air of inflation. When money incomes are excessive relative to the available supply of goods, as they are now, the logical way to reduce pressure on prices is to increase the supply of goods.

"We have the physical equipment to do this but the human factor is needed, a competent workman seeking to get out of his machine the whole production of which it is capable."

Mr. Dobson said salvation of European economy must be based upon a North American plan and "Canada will play her full and fair share in it."

"It is significant that in all the world the only two countries to which Europe can turn for effective help are these two democracies of America, free-enterprise countries. It is obviously not we who are unstable, but the totalitarian countries . . ."

James Muir, the bank's general manager, said no extensive program of bank-premises development had been launched because of high costs and scarcity of material. He reported the Royal Bank has 71 branches outside of Canada.

Financial Review

Golds Surge Ahead In Late Trading

TORONTO, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Key gold stocks surged ahead in late afternoon trading on the Toronto Stock exchange today to establish a long list of good advances for senior and junior producers.

Industrials traded selectively within fractional range on a majority of gains but pivotal issues persisted in the loss columns. Western oils remained firm as base metals turned irregular. Volume was about 950,000 shares.

A formerly listless gold section moved into action and posted fractional gains for Bralorne, Dome, Kerr Addison, Lake Shore, McIntwre, Sigma, Teck Hughes and Wright-Hargreaves for the senior list. Better juniors were Campbell, Coniaurum, Conwest, Discovery, East Malartic, Tider, Giant, God's Lake, Little Long Lac, Louvicourt, Macassa, MacLeod, Madsen, Malartic, Pioneer, Preston, San Antonio, Sylvanite, Upper Canada. Base metals posted advances for nickel, Osisko, Waite Amulet and losses for East Sullivan, Eureka, Labrador, MacDonald, Noranda, Quemont, Sherritt.

Industrials moved narrowly with newsprints mixed, utilities firm, steels about even on gains and losses and foods ahead. Imperial Oil features the section on more than 10,000 shares to advance to a new high.

Western oils were nearly all up from fractions to 15 cents, with better advances for Dalhousie, Home Oil, Calmont.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Stocks generally leaned to the rising side in today's market without any particular bullish news inspiration.

Prices hardened in the fourth hour but dealings were sluggish. There were a few isolated wide jumpers although advances near the close generally were in fractions and many minus signs persisted for leaders. Transfers held to around 800,000 shares.

Canadian issues were irregular. Canad'an Pacific and Dome Mones were each up ⅛ while Distillers Seagrams eased ⅛. McIntyre and Hriam Walker were unquoted.

MONTREAL, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Selected industrial issues were mixed in quiet dealings on the Stock Exchange and Curb Market today. Price changes were mainly fractional on a narrow list. Losses outnumbered gains two to one in mines in light trading.

Papers were steady. Fraser dropped ¼. In Utilities Winnipeg Electric was up ½ but Ottawa Electric Railway and Brazilian were off ¼ each.

Oil Discovered Near Windsor

TORONTO, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Imperial Oil, Ltd., Wednesday announced that discovery of an oil field in Tilbury Township, about 30 miles east of Windsor, Ont., is indicated by the coming in of a well Monday night.

The well, on the farm of Samuel Lynn at Staples, about five miles southwest of the town of Tilbury, came in with a pressure that blew the tools out of the hole, the announcement said. It added:

"Gas flow was estimated at 300,000 cubic feet daily and preliminary tests indicated a flow of six barrels per hour of 38 gravity crude oil. Production is from a depth of 1,169 feet.

"W. A. Roliff, in charge of geological, exploration and development work for Imperial Oil in Eastern Canada, said that while it is too early to make firm predictions, the probability of an oil field of at least 200 acres is suggested. A program is being drawn for further drilling in the area."

There had been estimates that underneath the Sarnia and Petrolia districts there lay a rich shale bed which under improved drilling methods might yield as much as 15,000,000,000 barrels of oil, which would be equal to about three-quarters of the entire proved crude reserves of the United States.

Ontario's production of oil to date is about 30,000,000 barrels. Ninety per cent of the oil produced in Ontario has been taken from fields discovered before 1886, and 85 per cent. of the province's natural gas comes from fields discovered prior to 1910.

Possibilities of a second large crop of oil in Southwestern Ontario were emphasized recently by discoveries in areas of the United States adjacent to the new field.

In the Western Ontario oil fields many an oil well sits in or near a farmyard. The strike near Tilbury was one development of the most comprehensive and scientific search ever made for oil in Ontario, started in 1945 by Imperial Oil which was said to have leased more than 100,000 acres of land.

Charge Diplomats In Annexation

NUERNBERG, Jan. 8.—(Reuters)—Two of the 21 high Nazi diplomats on trial here on war crimes charges in "the Wilhelmstrasse case" were accused today in an affidavit of engineering the German Annexation of Austria in 1938.

They are Wilhelm Keppler, former state secretary at the German foreign office and economic adviser to Hitler, and Dr. Edmund Vessenmayer, former minister to Hungary.

Theodor Hornbostel, former chief of the political division of the Austrian foreign office, in his affidavit, described Keppel and Vesenmayer as "Austria's greatest enemies and the chief leaders in the illegal anschluss." Hornbostel's affidavit presented specific documents involving Keppler who organized the notorious "Himmler's circle of friends" and later served as Reich commissioner for Austria and state secretary for special assignments in the foreign office from 1939 to 1945.

McEvenue Resigns Canada Life Post

TORONTO, Jan. 8.—(CP)—The board of directors of the Canada Life Assurance Company today announced the resignation of the company's president, S. C. McEvenue owing to continued poor health, and the appointment of E. G. Baker to succeed him.

Mr. McEvenue joined the company in 1927 as western supervisor, became general manager in 1945 and president in 1946.

Mr. Baker has been a vice-president for seven years, is chairman of the board of directors of Moore Corporation, and a director of the Bank of Canada and the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Wheat Supplies In Store Lower

WINNIPEG, Jan. 8—(CP)—Canadian visible wheat supplies in store at the end of the year, 1947, totalled 139,700,000 bushels, 9,800,000 bushels below holdings at the close of 1946, the Board of Grain Commissioners reported today.

Wheat shipments from the lakehead during the week ending Dec. 31, 1947, totalled 330,000 bushels, bringing to 90,800,000 bushels the outward movement from Fort William and Port Arthur for the current crop year, and to 176,000,000 bushels the total for the calendar year, 1947.

Export clearances of Canadian wheat during the week were reported at 2,900,000 bushels, while farm deliveries of wheat totalled 1,900,000 bushels.

Indian Raiders Grab Territory

NEW DELHI, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Observers in this capital of Hindu India today linked intensified attacks by Moslem raiders in the princely state of Kashmir to fact that the United Nations Security Council will discuss the Kashmir issue next week.

The theory here was that the raiders are making an all-out attempt to grab as much territory as they can to strengthen their bargaining position for any territorial sharing which might be the Security Council's judgmnet.

Meanwhile in Moslem Pakistan's capital of Karachi, Premier Mohammed Ayub Khurro of the province of Sind, announced that 122 persons were killed and 200 injured in two days of rioting there. He said 61 of the dead were Sikhs.

The communal strife is sparked by causes similar to those of the Kashmir fighting where the raiders are protesting the accession of the predominantly-Moslem state to India by the Hindu Maharajah, Sir Hari Singh.

At Bombay, the Indian delegation to the Security Council meeting—expected to discuss the Kashmir question Monday or Tuesday and by Jan. 15 at the latest—left by air today for New York.

Business Spotlight

Cost of Living Increase Seen

By The Canadian Press

Financial communities in the United States and Canada, having digested President's Truman's "State-of-the-Union" message to Congress, decided today there would be no adverse effects on business. On the New York Stock Exchange gains had showed a slight edge over losses to end uncertainty that prevailed while business waited for the message. In Toronto and Montreal stock prices generally moved into higher levels.

News of the rising cost of living filled newspaper columns across the country and commodity prices showed indications of further increases. Livestock receipts at Canadian markets were substantially reduced in face of strong bids. In Toronto, veal calves added another $1 a hundredweight on top of a similar increase the previous day, while sheep and lamb prices also moved up. Grains in Chicago and Winnipeg and cotton in New York were firmly entrenched in the upward trend.

The Canadian industrial picture, however, continued bright. Its growth is pointed up by, of all things, cheese.

At one time (1904) Canada shipped as much as 234,000,000 pounds to Britain. For the year beginning April 1 she will ship only 50,000,000 pounds and economists think she may send virtually none within a few years.

The reason—Canada is becoming industrialized and her own growing urban population is consuming her dairy production, either as milk or in its principal products of butter, cheese, ice cream.

Though Canada has the largest dairy cattle population in her history, her dairy industry of the future is expected to have all it can do to supply the domestic market.

Hospital Rates Climb Upward

TORONTO, Jan. 8.—(CP)—The oft-heard question of the "price spread" on farm products was revived yesterday as farmers announced their first reaction to the new wave of food price increases.

W. E. Tummon, secretary of the Ontario Hog Producers' Association, said flatly the difference between the prices received by farmers and those paid by consumers are "too great."

"The retail prices reported in the press are away above what we think they should be," he said. At a board meeting yesterday we were discussing whether to ask the Dominion government for a careful investigation into the whole spread in justification to ourselves."

Increased food costs were held responsible for boosts in the rates of three Ontario hospitals yesterday and superintendents of other hospitals said more rate increases may be necessary.

Room rates in Kitchener-Waterloo hospital and St. Mary's hospital, both in Kitchener, were boosted 20 per cent, effective Jan. 1. St. Mary's said in a statement that vegetable and fruit costs have climbed 50 per cent since last summer.

In Windsor, Grace hospital boosted its rates 50 cents a day.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 8.—(CP)—Due to continuing increases in the cost of living, hospital authorities here yesterday predicted a substantial increase in rates for patients.

Desert Prospector Grubstaker Is Dead

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Albert Mussey Johnson, 72, retired insurance executive who grubstaked the desert prospector, Death Valley Scotty for 30 years, died yesterday.

Former president and chairman of the board of the National Life Insurance Co. of Chicago, Johnson built the $2,000,000 Death Valley Scotty Castle. As the legend of the pictures, the Scotty snowballed with reports of hidden gold mines and almost unbelievable tales of mysterious wealth, Johnson was content to remain in the background as the prospector's partner.

Practicing in Pittsburgh, Pa., for his debut as the "human mail bag" at All-American air manoeuvres in Florida, Bernie Cain, 28, of Aspinwall, Pa., is successfully snatched off the ground by a nairplane and reeled in to board the speeding craft. Wearing a special nylon harness, Cain sits on the ground and a low-flying plane trailing a long rope, with a hook at the end, swoops down and yanks him aloft. Photo below show Cain's daredevel stunt.

Harvests Flax In Mid-Winter

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Jan. 8.—(CP)—Even though he had to wait until winter to harvest it, Russell Blumel of Magrath, Alta., 25 miles south of here, still thinks flax is a good crop.

Before he put his combine to work, Mr. Blumel had to wait until a chinook wind carried off the November snow. Now he is harvesting 25 bushels of flax to the acre, it's worth $5 a bushel.

Temperatures have been standing around 50 degrees for several days —perfect harvest weather.

Confirms Four Officer Dismissals

OSHAWA, Ont., Jan. 8.—(CP)—George Burt, Canadian director of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), confirmed late yesterday that four of the union's top-ranking officials have been dismissed by Walter Reuther, UAW international president.

He said the dismissals were "partly" an economy move. He declined to comment on other reasons for Reuther's action.

The four are Drummond Wren, Toronto, director of union education; Harry Rowe, Toronto and Windsor, Ont., director of public relations; John Eldon, Toronto, and Fred Steeve, St. Catharines, Ont., international representatives.

Six Nations Tribe Sue Government

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—(CP)—In a court-room counter-attack to the Six Nations Indians' suit for $1,289,000, the Dominion contended yesterday the Braves took to the legal warpath many moons too late to bring home their quarry.

Firing from behind an ambuscade of piled-up law tomes, department of justice lawyers used the statute of limitations as a weapon against the Red Men's claim to compensation for lands and monies lost to them in canal-building around their reservation near Brantford, Ont.

In the high oak-panelled chamber of the exchequer court, tribesmen listened unemotionally while the crown argued that the ancient claim—dating back to the 1820's—had been outlawed generations ago by the limitations statute.

On behalf of the 5,000 Indians of the Six Nations, they are seeking payment with compound interest—for lands taken over or flooded in the building of the Welland and Grand River Canals and for $160,000 in tribal funds invested in the now-defunct Grand River Navigation Company.

The present long-drawn-out proceedings have been under way since 1942, the year before the Indians got from the governor-general a fiat to sue the crown. Before that, there had been intermittent attempts dating back from around 1850, but the tribesmen never were able to get permission to sue.

Mr. Justice C. G. O'Connor will rule on whether a case can be taken before the exchequer court.

Retail Merchants Executive to Meet

TORONTO, Jan. 8.—(CP)—The Retail Merchants Association of Canada has summoned a meeting of its national executive, food division, for Toronto Jan. 19 and 20 to consider what it calls "a national problem of serious importance—rising food costs."

Announcement of the meeting, called by President George Whitter of Prince Albert, Sask., was made here last night by George Christensen, national director of the organization.

Decision of the retail organization to hold the emergency meeting, said Mr. Christensen, stemmed from indications of a credit situation developing throughout Canada particularly in lower-wage industrial areas "which it was felt might develop into depression conditions."
